Nab Train Bandits After Gun Fight

2 Ohioans Admit Holdup

One Wounded, Near Death

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Police after a wild gun battle a few blocks from the White House today captured two men who admitted taking part in the holdup of a crack B. and O. train near Martinsburg, W. Va , last night.

One of the desperadoes was shot in the stomach and is reported near death. His companion was captured after police wrested his gun away from him.

Police Chief Robert Barrett said the pair freely admitted they engineered the spectacular robbery of the crack Baltimore-to-Detroit train, the Ambassador.

Barrett said the two suspects gave their names as George Llewellyn Ashton, 21, and Luman Ramsdell, 23, both of Youngstown, Ohio.

The wounded Ramsdell, a marine veteran of 28 days of bloody fighting at Okinawa during World War II, was a former inmate of Ohio state reformatory at Mansfield. He served two different sentences at the reformatory, one for holding up a bartender and robbing him of $200, and the other for operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent. He was paroled each time.

Ashton was also a former inmate of the reformatory, having been sentenced there after he admitted a series of robberies in 1945.

The two gunmen boarded the train at Martinsburg, brought the crack express to an emergency stop a few minutes later, and robbed and terrorized passengers and crew.

The daring holdup, one of the most spectacular in the annals of modern crime, netted the bandits more than $1,000 in cash and valuables.

Shortly after leaving the train, the two held up the nearby Clover Rail club, a West Virginia night spot, where they took $200 in cash from 25 frightened patrons.

The pair then made their way to Leesburg, Va., not far from the West Virginia line, and boarded a Washington-bound bus

On an advance tip from Martinsburg authorities Washington police were stationed at the District of Columbua bus terminal awaiting the arrival of the bus.

None of the passengers leaving the bus answered the description of either of the bandits, and when officers questioned the driver they learned that the gunmen had left the vehicle when it stopped at 21st and K streets, about 10 blocks from the bus station.

Lt. Edgar Scott of the police robbery squad then sounded a general alarm and converged on the 21st and K area.

Officers quickly spotted the pair in a pawnshop at 2157 Pennsylvania avenue, where they were buying a suitcase.

Officer Elwood Lomax entered the pawnshop with his gun drawn and ordered the two to surrender.

Instead of obeying, Ramsdell drew a .45-caliber gun, but Lomax fired first, the slug from the officer's weapon tearing into the bandit's side and stomach.

Ashton then surrendered without a struggle.

Lucas Man a Victim

Earl Paine of Lucas was listed among those aboard the B. & O.'s Ambassador train, who were robbed by two daring bandits in typical Jesse James style last night. The bandits, brandishing revolvers, relieved Paine of $10.

Editor Has Excuse For Lack of News

ATLANTIC HIGHLAND, N. J. —(AP)— The weekly Atlantic Highlands Journal went to press with a low-tide of personal news this week and its editor published this front-page explanation:

"The editor's wife, who goes around picking up loose ends after the editor is a good eight months pregnant and the doctor says she must take things easy from here on out.

"That means the number of loose ends she picks up is considerably diminished.

"Included under 'loose ends' are such things as personal items, society news, bookkeeping, circulation and subscription records. keeping the office swept, cooking the editor's meals, proof reading, paying the bills, etc. So please understand."

'Clean-up' Campaign Opens May 2

C of C Committee Maps 2-Fold Drive

A two-fold campaign to rid Mansfield of rats and to clean up the city will begin May 2, it was decided last night by the Fire Prevention committee of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce.

The fire committee, headed by W. G. Schultz, met with representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at the C of C assembly room to outline a "12-months-of-the-year" campaign to prevent fires in Mansfield, rather than just a week's campaign in the fall.

Out of the year-round fire prevention campaign to be undertaken, the C of C committee decided to reduce fire hazards by holding a clean-up campaign, and the Jaycees would reduce fire hazards and increase sanitation , at the same time, by warring on the city's rats.

Since a clean-up and a rat extermination program are closely related, the C of C committee and the Jaycee group agreed to combine the two projects during the week of May 2-7.

Schultz pointed out that many of the city's businesses are now holding their own rat extermination programs, but they need help since the rats can breed in other places and then move in to replace the ones that were killed.

Members of the committee suggested that Mansfield have a Fire Prevention bureau, directed by the city fire chief, that would do nothing but inspect buildings and have the power to call in law enforcement agencies to correct fire hazards when the bureau discovered them.

The committee also pointed out that the city laws pertaining to fire prevention are not catalogued into one code like the building code, but are scattered throughout the city ordinances. Due to this condition, few people know or could easily learn of all the ordinances governing fire prevention practices.

Anti-Trash Drive Scores

Reynold Bell, 338 Park Avenue west, was fined $10 and costs in Municipal Judge H H. Schettler's court today for illegally dumping garbage or trash.

Bell was charged in an affidavit filed by Nettie Shouck, Home road, with throwing kitchen waste on her property. She was able to indentify him by a letter with his name and address on it left on the garbage, she said.

Bell was the first offender apprehended in the current drive to end garbage scattering. Health officers said March 4, that there had been considerable dumping on Longview avenue, between Main street and Olivesburg road. Persons who live in these areas were asked to assist the health department in apprehending violators by turning in clues.

Palestine Peace Shattered

Furious Tank Battle Starts

LONDON —(INS)— Trans-Jordan dispatches reported today a bitter tank battle between Israeli and Arab legion forces in the eastern Negev, and claimed that Israeli armor and artillery penetrated five miles of Trans-Jordan territory.

The Trans-Jordan Defense Ministry in Amman claimed that Arab Legionnaires repulsed a Zionist armored force at Gharandal, 30 miles north of the Red Sea port of Aqaba, base of 1,000 British troops, but that fighting was still going on in the area.

The ministry also said that an Israeli armored brigade, equipped with heavy tanks, .75 millimeter guns and heavily-armored vehicles, had knifed through five miles of Trans-Jordan territory and entered the El Risha plain.

PEARL HARBOR

(A Trans-Jordan spokesman on the island of Rhodes, where Israeli-Trans-Jordan armistice negotiations are going on, termed the Israeli action "a Pearl Harbor" attack, and said that two Israeli columns were marching on Aqaba.)

Reliable sources in Amman asserted that another Israeli column had moved swiftly through the eastern Negev and gained a foothold on the Red Sea, close by Aqaba.

This unit, it was understood, was awaiting a link-up with a larger body of Zionist troops moving due south along the Wadi Araba which lies between the Dead Sea and the Gulf of Aqaba.

It was apparently this larger force which the Arab Legion was said to have engaged in combat.

The reported outbreak of large-scale hostilities in the Holy Land touched off speculation that Britain may become embroiled in the fighting.

Gag Battle Near Climax

WASHINGTON — (UP) — A crucial showdown in the Senate filibuster fight neared today with majority leader Lucas scheduled to file a petition for a gag vote.

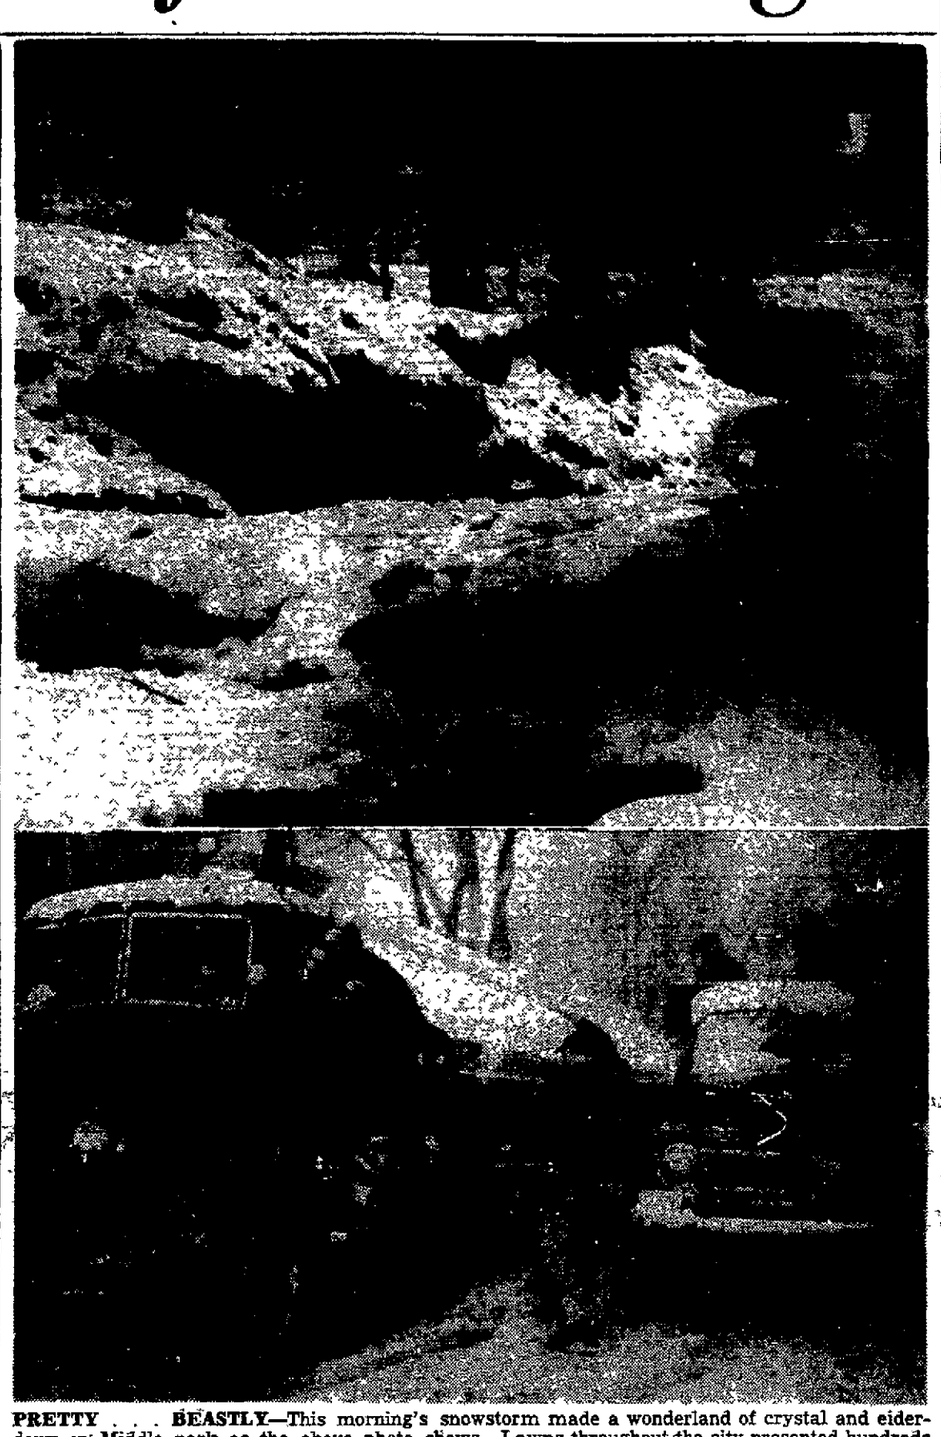
Lucas announced for the second night session that he would present the petition today and that he believes vice-president Barkley, the presiding officer, will rule on it immediately.

It was possible that the actual vote on shutting off th 10-day-old southern filibuster against a tighter gag rule could come today but Lucas believed it would be taken Saturday.

If Barkley, as expected, rules two-thirds of the Senators can limit debate on any motion, southern Democrats can appeal from his ruling. Indications are that the leadership would allow the appeal to be debated until Saturday and then a vote taken.

Thirty-three Senators, 16 of the Republicans, signed the cloture petition favoring a gag on debate by a two-thirds vote.

Leaders in the filibuster struggle battled for the votes of a half-dozen reportedly undecided Republican Senators who may control the outcome of the gag-rule fight.



PRETTY . . . BEASTLY—This morning's snowstorm made a wonderland of crystal and eiderdown in Middle park as the above photo shows. Lawns throughout the city presented hundreds of lovely, picturesque scenes. But the storm had another side, too, as the lower photo shows and as virtually every Mansfielder knows. This traffic jam-up on North Mulberry street was only one of scores that made thousands late for work, dented fenders, ruffled tempers, and put the city generally on the skids.

3 Dead In Weird Slaying

Hears Death Shots Across the Country

NEW YORK—(INS)—A woman's death screams, followed by six shots, made a Los Angeles mother an aural witness to a New York double murder and suicide that climaxed a love triangle showdown last night.

Dead in the tragedy are Mrs. Norma Holt, 30, her husband, Emory, 35, and David Whittaker, also 35 years old.

Police said Holt killed his wife and Whittaker in the latter's fashionable New York apartment and then took his own life

Police also said that the only living witness to the tragedy—and that by long distance telephone—was Mrs. Elsie Thomas of Hollywood, Calif., the dead woman's mother.

Authorities gave this picture of the dramatic tragedy.

Holt took his wife to see Whittaker, whom he accused of stealing her affections.

After several minutes of discussion Holt put through a transcontinental telephone call to his wife's mother.

Mrs. Thomas said Holt told her:

"I'm sorry, Mother, for what I'm about to do

"I'm going to kill Norma and her sweetheart. And I'm going to finish it off by killing myself."

She attempted desperately to change her son-in-law's mind and pleaded with him while she heard the sound of loud voices in the background.

BEGS FOR MERCY

Then she heard her daughter beg for mercy and scream before Holt fired the fatal bullets

Holt had apparently left the hook off the phone deliberately.

The frantic, nearly hysterical woman put through a call to an acquaintance in New York, who in turn called police.

Detectives Timothy Abbott and James Mullen rushed to Whittaker's apartment and entered by passkey.

Cuba Blasts At Russia

HAVANA — (INS) — Cuba served blunt notice on Russia to cease its "aggressive and sinister" propaganda in Cuba, and hinted that activities of the Soviet legation may be curtailed.

The Cuban government made its position known in two stern notes delivered to the legation last night. One protested to the egation's dissemination, through bulletins and newspapers, of harmful propaganda.

The other rejected a Soviet protest over the sale of masks resembling Stalin to be worn during the Cuban carnival season. This note stated that the government had no intention of banning the masks, the sale of which in no way violated Cuban laws

The first protest called attention to the recent remarks by communist leaders in foreign countries to the effect that workers of all nations must side with Russia in the event of war. This, the note said, was part of a plan to destroy democratic nations

The note asserted the Soviets are using their diplomatic channels of information for ani-Cuban propaganda, including attacks on leading Cuban personalities.

Embarrassed Police Make Amends

'Prisoner' Offered Breakfast In Bed

FORT WAYNE, IND. — (UP) — Embarrassed police officials gently awakened Ralph MacDonald, 37, Lima, O., today and offered to serve him breakfast in bed.

All they wanted was to speed MacDonald on his way home to Lima so they could forget the entire affair that started when officers hauled him off a bus early today.

State police tipped local officials late last night that a man named Ralph Mac Donald, wanted for escaping from the county jail at Muskegon, Mich., Monday, had boarded a bus at Peru, Ind., bound for Lima.

Officers surrounded the bus when it pulled into the depot here. They were armed to the teeth and were surprised when the man answering to the name of MacDonald gave up without a struggle.

Then the blow fell. MacDonald allowed as how they had made a slight mistake.

The officers began checking with Muskegon. From Deputy Sheriff John C. Russ there, they learned that Ralph MacDonald, 46, a convicted killer, was snug in jail there.

The Muskegon MacDonald was recaptured within a few hours after he and three other prisoners burrowed their way out of the county jail.

Just to make sure, Russ rechecked fingerprints to make certain he was holding the right man. He was.

Police Lieut. Edgar W. Taylor apologized profusely to the MacDonald being held there.

MacDonald took the mistake with good humor. He said it was "The first time I've been in jail and it's been an interesting experience."

Worst Storm Of Winter Lashes Area

County schools were closed, air travel was cancelled, buses ran behind schedule and maintenance crews worked feverishly to clear congested highways and streets early today as the winter's worst storm blanketed Richland county with snow in its sweep across northern and western Ohio.

Highway crews, working since 5 a. m., estimated the snowfall in the Mansfield area at four to five inches by 10:30 a. m. Galion had a reported four inches at that time.

All county schools were closed by noon today. Shiloh, Plymouth, and Bellville schools opened this morning, but pupils were sent home by noon. Principals and superintendents said classes would be resumed tomorrow if the roads are cleared and there is no more snow.

Mansfield public and parochial schools were open, but hundreds of pupils arrived late or were unable to get to classes because of the slippery and snow-clogged streets.

The heavy, wet snow began falling shortly before dawn as the mercury dropped near freezing. By 8 a. m., the snow had packed under wheels until even slight grades in the city stalled cars and trucks.

The South Main, Ashland, and North Mulberry street hills were jammed with stalled vehicles throughout the morning.

The snow stopped by 11 a. m., but the forecast said flurries would continue through the day It will be colder tomorrow with clearing skies.

All planes to and from the Mansfield airport were grounded. Greyhound buses from the northern section of the state were reported running late. Bus travel in the city was almost at a standstill from 7:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. Trains reported no delay in schedules.

All roads leading to and from the city were reported "slippery and very dangerous" by crews who were brought out at 5 a. m. today to battle the storm.

WANTS STREETS CLEAR

E. W. Davis, city street superintendent, asked that no cars be parked in the downtown area overnight so that crews can plow all streets. Four snow plows and eight trucks were on the city streets at 5:30 a. m. today. Davis said an entire crew was assigned to South Main street hill where motorists were stalled as long as a half hour on their way to work this morning.

Salt, usually effective on ice and snow, was of little help to street crews today as the fast falling snow covered the salt before hazardous conditions could be relieved.

County maintenance crews said 35 men were called on the job at 6 a. m. A dozen cinder trucks and several snow plows were employed.

State highway garage spokesmen said 10 crews and plows were concentrating on hills in the area and that maintenance of traffic over the ice and slush was "about all we can do."

BUSES LATE

Hundreds of Mansfielders were late for work this morning. Their cars stalled or the buses failed to arrive. Rapid Transit buses were operating far behind schedule during the morning because of the ice-coated streets and grades.

Spokesmen for the transit company said buses had little trouble from 5 a. m. to 7:30 a. m. but the jam of motorists on their way to work snarled the bus schedule until approximately 10:30 a. m.

Taxi firms were unable to provide enough cabs for the workers who had to hurry to get to their jobs. Telephone lines were jammed.

Seven inches of snow piled up within five hours at Greenville in western Ohio. Darke county schools closed and the Greenville-Dayton Transportation company, only bus line into the city, stopped operations.

Snowfall in other sections of the state ranged from one to three inches. Highways were reported normal in the northeastern, eastern, southern central, southern and southwestern portions of the state. Temperatures ranged from 24 to 50 degrees.

Although a number of minor collisions were reported, no one was injured seriously in the immediate Mansfield area as a result of the storm.

FEAR DRIFTING

Highway workers in western Ohio, hardest hit by the late winter storm, prepared to battle snowdrifts tonight.

Weathermen said colder weather with high winds probably would pile up the snow in rural highways.

Roads in Champaign county were reported "a mess." Urbana reported only two of 13 county schools open. Snow four inches deep fell between 5 and 9 a. m , following .4 inch of rain during the night.

Six inches of snow and 40-mile-per-hour winds brought traffic to a virtual standstill in Fremont. Green Springs schools were closed and 1,000 rural school children were taken home by bus from Fremont schools at 10 a. m.

Cleveland police department reported numerous minor accidents and riled tempers. Four persons were injured, although none seriously, when a street car and a bus collided.

Heavy snowfall in Bellefontaine and the surrounding area played havoc with traffic as the snow began to drift over icy spots.

Looting, Tragedy Follow Floods In Midwest States

BEATRICE, Neb.—(UP)—Looting was reported today in homes abandoned by families who fled from the flood waters of the Big Blue river.

Police reported that looters broke into three homes and a garage in the 30-block flood area where 125 families were forced from their houses.

At Albion, Neb., Robert E. Logdson, 61, was killed and three other men were injured in a premature explosion of 26 sticks of dynamite they were using to blast an ice jam on the Beaver river.

Joseph McMahan was recovering here from cold and shock suffered when his boat upset and threw him into the icy water.

All bridges in the area were closed as the approaching crest splashed over their approaches.

The Red Cross was rushing supplies here and to Crete for refugee relief. Beatrice and the surrounding territory was declared a major disaster area Tuesday.

At Kansas City, river forecasters estimated that the Missouri river and its tributaries have flooded 237,370 acres in carrying off waters from the melted snowbanks of the west.

A sudden heavy snowfall tied up traffic around Springfield, Mo., and resulted in the death of four persons in traffic accidents.

Police said they received reports of seven accidents per minute on the slick pavements. A school bus loaded with children skidded into a ditch but none was injured.

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Richland county's representative in the Ohio House of Representatives, Rep. Clifford L. Mitchell, declined to state how he would vote on the "oleo bill", now before the legislative body, when he met with Richland county farmers in Columbus.

Rep. Mitchell did say though, to members of the Richland Farm Bureau delegation, "I'm a former farmer, myself, so you should know how I'll vote".

The luncheon-business meeting in Columbus was attended by members of the Farm Bureau's "grass roots" committees from 12 northcentral Ohio counties and the State legislaters from those counties.

A. W. Marion, Ohio director of agriculture, and John W. Sims, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau, addressed the 100-strong agrarians and legislaters.

The Lowest Bidder

"It's unwise to pay too much, but it's worse to pay too little. When you pay too much, you lose a little money—that's all. When you pay too little, you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought was incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do. The common law of business balance prohibits paying a little and getting a lot—it can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run. And if you do that you will have enough to pay for something better."

Penn Auto Moves Into Gold Medal Semi-Finals

Veteran Ed Chatlain Continues to Sizzle

Penn Auto-Sporting Goods became the first team to qualify for semi-final play in the Gold Medal basketball tournament last night as it turned back a stubborn Bellville Athletic club, 36-23, at John Simpson gym.

Three other teams will move into semi-final brackets in a trio of games set for tonight on the Johnny Appleseed court.

Urschel Insurance will vie with Richland Beverage in the 7 p. m. opener while Komito's Clothes goes against Shelby Gumps at 8, and Martin Hardware tangles with Frankie Mitsch's Corner store at 9 p. m.

HARDWARE WINS

Martin Hardware walloped Mansfield Tire No. 2, 49-22, and Frankie Mitsch's smashed the Butler Boosters, 50-19, in second round games last night.

Biggest news of the night was once again the scoring of red-headed Ed Chatlain, the basket-making Senior High school teacher.

Chatlain dumped in 28 points to practically wrap up the individual scoring championship of the tournament. He counted 37 in Martin's opening game against Ontario Community, giving him a total of 65 points in the two games.

Only game of the night which was not decided early was the Penn-Bellville test. Bellville held the Autos to three free throws to lead 5-3 at the end of the first quarter.

Penn came back to take the lead 21-9 at the half but Bellville refused to quit and cut the margin to 28-19 at the three-quarter mark.

Today's Rookies Treated Royally

By MILTON RICHMAN

NEW YORK—(UP)—Al Schacht, baseball's blustering "Clown Prince" who has attended a "cool 34" spring training sessions and has seen 'em come and go, insists today's rookie enjoys a regal reception compared to the rude welcome accorded recruits of yesteryear.

"Why, the kids of today are handled with kid gloves," snapped Schacht. "It was a lot different in the old days when we used to wait and watch for newcomers at spring training.

"I got my initiation, too, when I was with Newark," declared the dark-haired restaurateur who once ranked as a pitcher-of-sorts.

SNIPE HUNTER

"We were training in Savannah, Ga., and I volunteered to join in on a snipe hunt. I waited two-and-a-half hours for a snipe that never showed up. That's nothing, though. I know some rooks who waited four hours."

Schacht's introduction to professional baseball was painful, to say the least.

"When I came back to my hotel after the snipe hunt," he recalled, flicking the pages of history back some 35 years, "I found a guy in my bed dressed in a baseball uniform.

"I ran down the hall to the manager's room and told him about my odd room-mate who sleeps with his uniform on. The manager races to my room, grabs this guy, throws him out the window and yells, 'That'll teach him never to sleep in his uniform again'."

Schacht spent an extremely unhappy night brooding over his unfortunate room-mate. He learned in the morning, however, that the roomie actually was a dummy.

In 1917, the inimitable Schacht reported to the Giants' spring training site at Marlin Springs, Tex. Crusty old John McGraw managed the New Yorkers then and was a stickler for respect.

JUST HOT AND COLD

One day, while Schacht was in the midst of a steam bath, waggish Art Fletcher threw a pail of cold water over him. Eager for revenge, Al filled a bucket of cold water the next day and sought Fletcher. Finally, Schacht found him, or rather he thought he did

Thinking he heard Fletcher's voice in a room, Schacht found a ladder, and without bothering to peek through the transom, lowered the contents of the bucket into the room.

"All I heard," reveals Schacht, "was a tremendous splash with two or three curse words thrown in. Suddenly it dawned on me I had hit McGraw with the water.

"In the clubhouse later on that day, McGraw said, 'Somebody on this ball club threw a pail of water at me today and I aim to find out who it is. And when I do find out, I'll send him so far that even a post card won't reach 'm.'

"You know something," grinned Schacht, "McGraw was wrong. He sent me away all right but I kept getting my mail regularly . . . even the post cards."

Lausche Urges 'Tightening' In Ohio Unemployment Laws

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche yesterday asked the legislature for five changes in the state's unemployment compensation laws, one of which would make it impossible for persons not working to draw more money than if they were working.

The governor called the Senate Commerce and Labor committee into a session to make his demands known. The committee is considering a workman's compensation bill.

The governor's requested changes:

1. The law must make it impossible for persons not working to draw more in benefits than if they were working.

2. A provision would have to be clarified to "make certain that strikers and those closely connected with the mine the same union could not draw benefits."

3. Persons vacationing in Florida or other places would be denied "the benefit of aid of law." (A controversy was stirred up last month over reports that Ohio citizens were drawing jobless pay from Ohio while vacationing in Florida and California.)

4. Person discharged for cause "would have to suffer a period of ineligibility for compensation for seven weeks."

5. The definition of "suitable work" for which a jobless person must be available would be modified.

Claims Killer Heard 'Noises'

SPRINGFIELD — (INS) — The prosecution continued to call witnesses today against Dwight David Tudor, 26, of Columbus under a first degree murder indictment for the slaying of a 14-year-old Springfield girl.

Columbus Defense Attorney John F. Seidel said testimony would show Tudor's "head began to go like a drum," and that "noises and voices," urged him to "go ahead and shoot" Mary Ann Page in the lonely Boone station school yard.

The first witness against Tudor, arrested last Oct. 6 at the Columbus police station, three days after the murder, was Sheriff J. Arthur Shuman.

Defends Self On Narcotics Charge

LOS ANGELES — (INS) — Dancer Vickie Evans takes the stand in her own defense today without the aid of her pals, actor Bob Mitchum and actress Lila Leeds.

Mitchum and Miss Leeds, who were arrested with real estate agent Robin Ford and Miss Evans on suspicion of possessing marijuana cigarettes last Aug. 31, withdraw as defense witnesses last Monday.

Care said the packages, to be sent to the German-Austrian youth fund, will be donated by an anonymous Cleveland organization.

If the champion Indians do as well this year as last, that will send 97 such packages to Europe.

Urge Study On Atlantic Pact

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Delegates to the National Study conference on the church and world order today were to begin drafting their "message to the churches" embodying the conference's findings on utilizing American moral force in the world.

Charles E. Bohlen, counselor of the State department opened a discussion of the North Atlantic pact last night before one of three sectional groups.

The 150 members of the section on "the Churches and American Policy in Europe" withheld endorsement of the pact and urged that the American people be given an opportunity to study the proposed treaty before the government takes final action.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Amended

Regulation "W" has now been amended, permitting longer terms on the purchase of late model cars. This change will mean lower monthly payments when paying on a car out of income. We think now is the logical time to purchase a car while prices are down and payments are made easier. Our policy is to continue to sell better cars at prices below the prevailing market. We are able to do that because of our low overhead and volume business. We are sure you will save considerably by seeing us before making a purchase.

A tie for fourth position went to Ronald Elwood Roll, of Madison; and Rosemary Tinkey, of Springfield, with scores 185.

The other first ten students were Ronald Clyde Bender, 184, of Lexington; Joanne Marie Beer, 178, of Madison; Dominic Francis Morris, 176, of Madison; James Marshall Zehner, 176, of Springfield; and Marion LaVerne Altman, 175, of Lexington.

About 1,000 eye injuries occur daily among American workers. A U. S. Public Health Survey on the eyes of 1,000,000 persons showed that 20 per cent of those in the 17-18 year age group had visual problems; 39 per cent of those at the age of 30, 71 per cent of those at 50, and 80 per cent of those at 60.

Seek to Bar Pardoning

COLUMBUS — (INS) — A resolution seeking to deprive a lame-duck governor of his right to pardon prisoners or commute sentences after he is defeated in an election but before he goes out of office was recommended for passage yesterday.

The vote of the House Public Welfare committee was 9-1.

Before voting out the resolution, the committee deleted a provision that also barred a lame-duck governor from granting reprieves.

Almost without exception, every outgoing governor in recent history has granted numerous pardons and commutations before vacating the executive chair.

However, Rep. Michael Damas (D-Lucas) author of the measure, quoted an aide of Governor Lausche as saying the governor is in "full support" of the resolution.

House Votes Tangled, Oleo Bill Given New Breath of Life

Final Tally Shows Score Tied, 65-65

Proposal Back In Ring Today

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Saved by the bell yesterday, the battered oleo bill steps another bewildering round in the House of Representatives today.

The battle is to decide whether it goes to a friendly labor committee or a supposedly hostile agriculture group for hearings.

The initiated measure to permit manufacture and sale of colored oleo in Ohio got into the House fight with the butter bloc far ahead of schedule.

It was due for a respite after the senate picked it up off the floor from a near knockout and passed the bill last Monday night.

The House Reference committee sought to assign the bill to the urban-dominated labor committee, which already is nursing three other oleo proposals.

Reps. Lowell Fess (R-Greene), William L. Manahan (R-Defiance) and Roy H. Longenecker (R-Wood) said the agriculture committee should give it a going over.

Butter backers won the first house roll call 65 to 64 and it looked like they had oleo on the run. But that changed when it was discovered Rep. Gordon C. Renner (R-Hamilton) had been tallied incorrectly. A correction made the vote 65 to 64 in favor of the oleo bloc.

Then the House learned Rep. J. E. Simpson (R-Hardin) had not been recorded as voting with the ruralites. That correction made the count 65 to 65

By that time the House leadership was too exhausted to care. So the battle was put over until today.

Here's the tentative fight card:

Majority floor leader A. G. Lacione (D-Belmont) plans to ask adoption of the reference committee report. Fess will move to amend by striking the oleo bill from the report.

Then the House will vote on the amendment. If it is sustained, oleo will go back to Reference committee and start all over again. If the amendment loses, the House then votes on the committee report. Adoption would send oleo to the Labor committee's waiting arms where it was headed before being waylaid.

A surprise punch could vary the routine. But that's the way things looked in advance of the house sessions.

A belt of calm winds north of the equator is called the "horse latitudes" because, many say, in the old days many sailing ships laden with horses ran short of water and were forced to throw the animals overboard.

Sal's Jury Deadlocked

Again Considers Treason Evidence

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Deadlocked after 10-½ hours, a federal jury today resumes its examination of evidence in the treason case of MILDRED (Axis Sally) Gillars.

If convicted, the sultry-voiced siren of the nazi radio faces a sentence ranging from five years imprisonment to death. But the United States never has executed a traitor in peacetime.

At 10:32 last night, the foreman of the jury summoned Deputy Marshal Charles Ward and advised him that the seven men and five women had been unable to agree. They were then locked up for the night on instructions of Federal Judge Edward M. Curran.

The silvery-haired Miss Gillars, who had been waiting in the courthouse cellblock on the floor below the jury room, was returned to the district jail for the night. She has been held there without bond since her arrival from Germany last August.

Highway Bill Goes to House

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Proposed super-highways in Ohio faced a tough road in the lower House of the General assembly today after speeding through the state Senate in a breeze.

The bill now faces a hurdle which it failed to clear two years ago when it was tabled after it had passed the Senate by a vote of 26 to 8. Yesterday's vote in the upper House was 26 for and 5 against.

Sen. Ralph A. Winter, R., Lodi, who co-authored the present version of the bill with Sen. William M. Boyd, D., Cuyahoga, said there is a great need for such toll roads in Ohio. He declared the state-s present highway system is "woefully inadequate."

600 County 4-H Club Members To Stage Rural Life Tag Day

At least 600 Richland county 4-H club members will fan out over the county Saturday to sell tags for the benefit of the Richland Rural Life Center northeast of Mansfield.

They will be in Mansfield, in all the villages, at cross-roads, and may do some house-to-house canvassing in rural areas.

Purpose of the solicitation is to obtain funds for the Richland Rural Life center under construction at the Floyd Reding farm in Weller township. Thomas Sheppard, head of the Rural Life center said about $10,000 more is needed to complete the project.

Original cost was set at $40,000, but contributions by county residents and farm organizations have cut the figure.

County Agent C. N. McGrew said today that 4-H members will be supervised in Saturday's "Tag Day" by club advisers. The tags will say "Richland County Tag Day," with a large 4-H in the middle. Below will be the notation, "benefit Richland Rural Life center." At the bottom are the words: "For good health drink milk."

The tags were provided by the North Central Ohio Co-Op Dairy Sales association.

The collection will be used for improvement of the center. Next project is the remodeling of an old barn into a recreation and dining hall. Later, cabins will be built.

The Tag Day committee includes Harry Stroup, chairman, Max McFarland, and Ralph Oswalt, representing the Ways and Means committee of the Rural Life center, and Miss Ruth Brook and Mrs. Harold Tingley, representing 4-H clubs.

Dismiss Charge Against Cyclist

Charges against Glen E. Hunter, 320½ East Second street, for failure to stop after an accident, were dismissed in municipal court today on application of the plaintiff, William T. Cory, 29 Orchard street.

Hunter was released under a $500 bond March 4, when he pleaded innocent. He had been arrested at his home that day after his motorcycle allegedly was involved in an accident with Cory's car.

Traffic Toll Rising In City In '49

Monday's Most Dangerous Day

Traffic accidents and violations in Mansfield during the first two months this year show a definite increase over the same period in 1948, the traffic commissioner's monthly report discloses. And Monday is the most dangerous day.

There were 272 accidents on Mansfield streets in two months, resulting in the injury of 31 persons. During the first two months of 1948, a total of 250 accidents were reported, with 21 personal injuries.

In February alone there were 118 traffic accidents in which 14 persons were injured. Police filed charges against 58 drivers involved in these accidents. There were 204 drivers involved.

The most glaring cause of the high accident rate in February was the failure of a driver to yeild the right-of-way. Police listed 13 accidents resulting from this one violation. Next highest was seven accidents resulting from a driver's failure to stop at traffic lights.

Fifty-four of the two-car accidents occurred at intersections, and 45 occurred at non-intersections. Twenty-three accidents happened between the hours of 3 to 5 p. m., and more occured on Monday than any other day of the week.

There were five pedestrians injured, three crossing at intersections, with the signal.

As for the location of the accidents, 51 were in the residential district, 38 in the downtown shopping area, and 27 in the industrial area.

Sixty-seven accidents occurred in the daylight hours, and 43 after dark.

Safest time during February was from 10 to 11 p. m. or 3 to 4 p. m. on Wednesday. Only two accidents happened during those periods during the month.

3 Youths Warned By Court For Rail Signal Damage

Three teen-age youths, accused of damaging a railroad signal, which resulted in delaying a Baltimore and Ohio freight train for 15 minutes, were warned today in juvenile court that a repetition of their actions would result in a severe sentence.

The three were warned to stay off railroad property. Their parents, who were in court, also were warned of the seriousness of the offense.

The youths confessed in court to throwing stones at the signal, 300 feet west of Sycamore street, on Sunday, Feb. 27, knocking out the green lens and causing the signal to show white. As a result, the train stopped and crewmen telephoned the control tower to get a clear signal.

The court found that the youths had not done any damage with a .22 caliber rifle, but the owner was warned not to use the gun unless his father went along.

Two of the youths are 16 and one 14 years old.

Clevelander Given Title To Property

Wins Equity Case In Richland Court

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch ruled yesterday that Marie Haupt, of Cleveland, is entitled to possession of the house at 92-94 Lewis avenue.

Judge Kalbfleisch handed down the decision yesterday in an equity action brought by Mrs. Mae Bell Carpenter, of 155 East Sixth street.

In filing her action on Sept. 2, 1947, in common pleas court, Mrs. Carpenter said municipal court had granted a writ of possession in favor of Marie Haupt. Judge Kalbfleisch at the time issued a temporary order restraining municipal court officials from carrying out the judgment until a hearing could be held. The temporary order was dissolved yesterday.

In her petition Mrs. Carpenter had claimed she and her husband, Herschel, were buying the Lewis avenue property on a land contract and she had believed that payments were being made by her husband.

The parties, following the decision of Judge Kalbfleisch, settled the question of rents.

In another equity case yesterday, Judge Kalbfleisch ruled that a partnership did not exist in an auto repair business as alleged by Arch Purdy, Park avenue w.st, in his action against R. J. Zimmerman, 87 Waring avenue.

Purdy had claimed there was a partnership and he was to receive 25 per cent of the profits.

State Accuses Bartender

The case against Robert Reams, 27 Florence avenue, charged with furnishing intoxicating liquor to minors, was continued until March 17 in municipal court today.

Reams was arrested early Sunday and released on $500 bond. He is a bartender at the Catalina Nite club on Ashland road.

Molesting Suspect's Case Continued

Ulysses Tolliver, 33, of 77 Lows street, was held under $100 bond today and charged with molesting a young woman in the Veterans' Cab office, 33 East Sixth street, March 4.

Tolliver's case was continued until tomorrow in municipal court so that the plaintiff could attend.

LUCAS VILLAGE HALL

Community Fire Department In Lucas Nears Realization

LUCAS—The community fire department location on the Union street Village hall site moved a step nearer realization this week. Monday night, at a special session, council adopted a resolution deeding the hall building and site to the Monroe township trustees. The trustees meet Tuesday night and are expected to accept the proposal with councilmen in attendance.

If approved councilmen and trustees will work out details in forming some plan of community fire protection. A $20,000 bond issue for community fire protection was voted in the November election.

W.E. Darling, council president, Monday offered the resolution to sell the structure and deed of its site to the trustees. His resolution stipulated proceeds derived from the building sale should be used toward the construction of a new building, that council should furnish light and power and pay a reasonable share in its maintenance expense if the trustees agree to provide suitable quarters for housing the fire apparatus owned by the village, suitable rooms for council meetings and storage of materials and heat for the proposed new building.

A. B. Swain, member of the council's resolutions committee, seconded the move for the adoption. Four council members voted for the action. They were Darling, Swain, George Bright and Zane Moore. Two members Calvin Bennett and Robert Echelbarger, were absent.

Action regarding the disposition of the ramshackle Village hall is contingent upon agreement between council and trustees. Previous discussion and planning has been verbal but with the resolution technicality assured at Tuesday's meeting indications point to its acceptance and prompt action on constructing the needed community fire department building.

Crowds Like Comedian In Duchin Show

Comedian Garry Mortin with his impersonations of Betty Davis and other Hollywood players stole the show last night at the Ohio theater.

He was part of the Eddy Duchin orchestra show. Mortin, with an occasional whistle in his voice, imitated Humphrey Bogart and put on a Peter Lorre stunt that would have frightened Peter Lorre.

Songs were provided by Tommy Mercer while a novelty dance act by Bert and Ballow pleased the audience.

Duchin himself played several piano solos requested by the audience, including "Stardust".

Why Not Interrupt Filibuster?

HOWEVER HIGHLY individual and minority rights may be prized, the ability of a few persons to tie up action on important legislation by the United States Senate, as is being done by the present filibuster, gives the impression of being nonsensical.

If the privilege of filibustering is to be retained it would seem reasonable to adopt some such tactics as that applied in the children's game of tag, when the call of "King's X" serves to interrupt the game if something happens to require time out.

Why wouldn't it be sound procedure, when a filibuster is in progress, to suspend the talkathon long enough to act on essential legislation, such as the rent control bill, for instance, and then resume the filibuster where it left off?

While the current filibuster hinges on President Truman's civil rights program and is being engineered by the southern bloc, it serves to delay Senate action on many other matters of vital concern, with both sides seemingly determined to fight it out "if it takes all summer."

Somehow the reference to the Senate as "the greatest deliberative body in the world" doesn't appear to fit such an exhibition of time-killing as is now going on.

Girl Scouts Continue Gains

WHEN GIRL SCOUTS hold their annual dinner tonight they will have a list of sound achievements during the past year to review. At Camp Niniwan, the big lodge has been panelled and "winterized." Leader training courses have been developed, and a total of 1,671 persons is now found to be participating in Girl Scout work in Mansfield.

When the organization was founded here 11 years ago there were 10 or 11 girls interested. Now the 82 active troops boast an enrollment of 1,298 and 11 new troops are being organized.

Saturday, Girl Scouts will look back to a day in history 37 years ago when the first troop in the United States was organized by Juliette Low in Savannah, Ga. Today the national organization numbers nearly 1,500,000.

These are proud records for the girls of Mansfield and the nation.

Michigan Has Some Odd Ideas

MICHIGAN is placed in an awkward situation as a result of seeming to approve of capital punishment—if carried out in some other state—although its own laws ban the death penalty.

Those two "lonely heart" killers, who have admitted committing two murders in Michigan and one in New York state, are being extradited from Michigan to New York, where they will face a death sentence rather than the life imprisonment which is Michigan's top penalty for premeditated murder.

The Michigan legislature recently defeated a bill that proposed restoration of capital punishment in that state, but if ruthless killers can be taken to some other state and executed that seems to be all right.

Philippines Off To Good Start

PROPOSED expenditures of the Philippine government for the next fiscal year fall well within the estimated income, according to a report from Manila.

This despite the fact that the United States is withdrawing support from health and relief services, coast and geodetic surveys, weather service and aviation instruction. Military appropriations are smaller than those for other departments of government, and over one-fourth of the budget is being allotted to education. On the whole, a surplus of a million dollars marks the unusual achievement of the island government.

Apparently the withdrawal of Uncle Sam's protecting arm from its former dependency was properly timed. The Filipinos are demonstrating their ability to stand on their own feet.

Prophecy By Historian Recalled

HALF of a prophecy made by the historian Edward Gibbon has come true. A fellow-historian, rummaging in his masterpiece, "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire", discovered that Gibbon said of Fielding's novel, "Tom Jones", that it would "outlive the palace of the Escorial and the imperial eagle of the house of Austria."

The Escorial, that sixteenth century Spanish palace which houses many notable manuscripts and paintings, is still standing and intact; but the imperial house of Austria, eagles and all, has been gone ever since World War I, and probably never will be revived. But "Tom Jones" is still going strong, proving anew that the concepts of the intellect are longer lived than what may seem to be the most durable of political institutions.

Deemed worthy of nation-wide comment is the revelation that four little boys in Columbus have been hired as "tasters" by a candy concern—with an occasional quip to the effect that this can scarcely be regarded as child labor.

That Ought to Keep Everybody Busy for Awhile.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Labor Leaders Ponder Future Moves

IT IS NOW clear that the days of "60 million jobs" are over, at least temporarily. It is admitted that unemployment has risen to 3,200,000, while the number of employed is something over 57,000,000.

This decline will probably be arrested in April or May, when agriculture begins to employ more people. But general employment figures, as well as other economic signs indicate a decline.

Business, as well as the great mass of people lying outside politics and collective bargaining, are now interested in what government and union labor are planning to do.

Will the administration in Washington take a realistic view and modify its frantic efforts to pay in full all of the frantic Truman election promises to labor? Will labor itself modify its attitude of assurance that Truman's election was a sanction to move forward on all fronts?

The evidence now is that labor leadership is better aware of changing economic conditions than is our political government.

The President's advisers and other New Deal elements in Washington are still intent on talking against inflation while working toward inflation. Their purpose in this is to get into the hands of government more power to regiment the economy through price controls, rationing and allocation.

* * *

Pursue Cautious Course.

BUT LABOR is moving with more caution and is taking better account of the signs of the times.

That weathervane of labor strategy, John L. Lewis, has apparently decided to make no move to open new wage contract talks until May, because he wants to see, what will happen in general business conditions.

But, as always, he is busy with new plans to ask for something that looks like a gain for his miners in case wage and welfare increases seem inadvisable. His plans involve more "democracy in operation through the participation of labor in the planning of production with management.

The C. I. O. is still moving toward inflation through schemes for welfare benefits, including new forms of socialized medicine. The United Automobile Workers threaten to use the Ford company as a focus attack for such demands.

The A. F. of L. is not relaxing its efforts to prove that wage increases have been eaten up by higher living costs. But this is largely for public consumption. Underneath, there is a realistic conviction that gains from now on will not follow a general pattern but will accept various compromises according to conditions in specific industries.

Moreover, A. F. of L. leadership is taking account of certain fundamentals. One of these is the matter of productivity. It is recognized that in some lines wage increases have run far beyond a fair increase in the production of wealth in goods.

In such cases inflation in prices and wages mean "fools' profits," both of labor and management. The real interest of labor is in stabilization of wages and profits, with steady increases in productivity.

When the trend toward inflation is general, obvious and menacing, there is some justification for the interference of government in the trend of wages.

In a moment like this, when no general pattern is visible, government might well be advised to make no public judgments about wage policies.

To do so will not only upset a specific adjustments in a way harmful both to labor and management, but frustrate the efforts of moderate labor leaders to work for the stabilization that we all need.

Certainly, any talk of another round of general wage increases is clearly out of line with the facts.

Washington Calling

An Ineffective Majority

By MARQUIS CHILDS

SOMETHING very like demoralization exists among Democrats in the Senate. They have a paper majority of twelve, which in practice is entirely ineffectual.

It is not merely the continuing filibuster that demonstrates the sad plight of the party that rode to sensational triumph on Nov. 2. On labor legislation, on taxes, on almost every controversial issue, there is simply no cohesiveness.

The newcomers on the Democratic side — particularly those who came in with aggressive, liberal objectives — complain of an almost total absence of leadership. No one, they say, is calling signals from the White House. The majority, so the complaint goes, invariably rides off in all directions.

"Guidance on legislation:" exclaimed one of the newcomers. "I never felt so alone in my life. Why, I wasn't even told where the men's room was."

The seriousness of this situation now that more than two months of the session have passed is being pointed up by letters from back home. Some of the rosiest promises in the Truman campaign were made to the farmers.

As yet no farm bill has been put before Congress and no one on Capitol Hill seems to know what the administration wants in the way of farm legislation.

From the rural areas the letter writers want to know why the delay. At the same time they see commodity prices dropping. This is bearing down hard on Senators Hunt of Wyoming, Douglas of Illinois, Humphrey of Minnesota, Kefauver of Tennessee.

The dissatisfaction centers partly on majority leader Scott W. Lucas of Illinois but most of it focuses on the White House. President Truman's press conference declaration in favor of a simple majority for shutting off debate had a dismaying effect on the leadership and on those who are theoretically being led.

* * *

Strengthened Opposition.

NOTHING had previously been said at White House conferences with congressional leaders about the nature of the majority. The day after the press conference statement nearly 30 democratic senators from outside the South met to consider what could be done about the filibuster. Not one, including even Sen. Glen Taylor of Idaho, Wallaceite candidate for vice president, supported the simple majority proposal.

The bloc of southern Democrats, disciplined by a common conviction and skillfully led, had previously shown that they were likely to win the rules fight. The President's statement alienated some who might have been willing to go along on a constitutional majority — 49 of the 96 senators.

Even more important, it gave the southerners tangible and dramatic support for their charge that a change in rules could under certain circumstances mean imposition of the will of a minority.

It robbed those who should have been on the President's side of any maneuverability for bringing about a reasonable and face-saving conpromise.

Now the effort is being made to end the stalemate by agreement that debate could be closed by a three-fourths majority. This would, of course, be a complete triumph for the southerners. But it may prove to be the only way to get around the road block of the filibuster so that vital legislation can be considered.

Many of the letters now pouring in show that the average citizen has no understanding of or sympathy for the rules fight. By those who took the Truman campaign promises at their face value it is regarded as an annoying and technical distraction. Why don't you, the cry is, get down to doing some of the things you talked about?

A presidential message is a token of good intention. But if campaign promises are to be translated into reality, it will take a lot more than good intentions.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Sullivan Objects To New Unification Bill

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON. — Sitting in front of President Truman the other day, Secretary of the Navy John Sullivan gave virtual notice that he would resign if the new Armed Forces Unification Bill is passed by Congress.

Sullivan's statement came during a long White House huddle while the heads of the Army, Navy and Air Forces smoothed out the wrinkles in the bill which is supposed to cut out bickering, overlapping, and backbiting. Secretary of Defense Forrestal was also present, together with his successor, Louis Johnson, while Truman himself sat in part of the time.

During the long discussion of the bill, Secretary Sullivan made objection after objection. He was especially opposed to taking away the autonomous power of the Secretary of the navy and making him take orders from the secretary of national defense.

After the new Unification Bill was finally complete, and after Sullivan had registered all his objections, Secretary of Air Stuart Symington turned to him and said:

"Are you going to support this bill when it goes up to The Hill, John?"

"My course is all too obvious," replied Sullivan, which to those present made it quite clear that he would resign.

President Truman, who was present, obviously heard the remark but said nothing.

Note — Sullivan is reported as a possible choice for secretary of the treasury when and if John Snyder resigns. Sullivan once held the job of assistant secretary of the treasury under Henry Morgenthau, who eventually eased him out. Truman, who disliked Morgenthau, would like nothing better then to show what bad judgment Henry had by reappointing Sullivan to the Treasury.

Grills ECA Boss.

THOUGH it concerns every man who some day may have to shoulder a rifle, Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas chose a secret session of the House foreign affairs committee to give ECA boss Paul Hoffman a rugged grilling about the rebuilding of the German steel industry. However, the lady from California got few straight answers.

She attractive, plain-talking congresswoman had before her a private report from French government officials, emphasizing the dangers of reviving the war potential of one knocked-out foe, Germany, at the same time the democracies are trying to head off another competitor, Russia. So Mrs. Douglas asked:

"Does the United States government intend to write off the tremendous sacrifice of American blood in the last war by putting the world timeclock back on a pre-Munich setting, when democracy had two potential enemies instead of one?"

If not, continued Mrs. Douglas, are steel plants marked for reparations, including plants stolen from the French, being kept in Germany?

"Can you tell me when the plants marked for reparations will be transported, and to what countries?" she demanded. "I mean all of them—including those plants in occupied Germany rightfully belonging to France."

Hoffman Passes Buck.

HOFFMAN passed the buck first to Norman Collison, chief of the ECA mission in Germany, then to the state department.

However, in the next breath, he admitted that a number of the steel plants would have to be kept in Germany in order to build German production up to the 10,700,000 tons a year rate, which is the 1936 standard. German steel production now totals 7,900,000 tons a year.

"That isn't answering my question," persisted Mrs. Douglas. "I want to find out how many steel plants will be moved out of Germany, when, and to what countries."

Pinned down, Hoffman confessed that he didn't know, that the final answer would be up to the state department and the nations involved. He then threw up his hands and appealed to the committee for support. "I'm doing the best I can," said he, a little plaintively.

Truman On Filibuster.

UTAH'S Senator Elbert Thomas, chairman of the battle-torn Senate labor committee, stopped in to see the President the other day, and they talked about everything but labor.

The President was considerably more worried, for example, over the southern filibuster. But he was as determined as ever not to give in to southern senators. Thomas agreed that a rebellious minority should not be allowed to hold up the legislative wheels.

"Congress can send the country to war by a majority vote," the Utah senator pointed out, "yet Congress can't change its own rules by a majority vote."

Thomas also urged that the armed forces be tied together tighter under one head.

"You can't unify by dividing," he warned.

Assignment: America

Do States Have 'Rights'?

By INEZ ROBB

AUSTIN, Texas — During World War II, an innocent damyankee recruit stationed in Texas for flight training visited the state legislature.

The PFC watched the Texas House in session for some time with great interest and then asked a guide:

"Where do the Republicans sit?"

Texans still roar over such pristine innocence in a state where one party system—Democrat, that is—is the only system.

So any foreigner, i.e. a non-Texan, can readily grasp the depth of passion roused by the tidelands question when the citizens of the Lone Star state look wistfully to the Republican party for justice.

"That 'ain't doin' what comes naturally," says Gov. Beauford H. Jester, a man with the leonine head of a Roman senator and the incipient coiffeur of another stout Texan, Sen. Tom Connally.

Even more sadly, Jester added:

"The Republicans are now the party of states' rights."

The governor, who remained loyal to the true faith in the last election and refused to bolt to the states rights Democrats, could find only one ray of sunshine prior to Nov. 2 in the widespread confidence of a Republican presidential victory.

At least, he felt, the Republican party platform included a plank forever vesting ownership of the tidelands in the adjacent states. The governor, in his high-ceiling offices in the state capitol, leaned back in his chair and said, with a wry smile:

"I even wrote Sen. Taft, urging him to get such a bill through the Senate. The House had already passed it."

But, as everyone knows, the true faith was returned to power at the polls in November. And now Gov. Jester and all Texans are fighting tooth and nail to defeat the efforts of a Democratic administration to wrest from the Lone Star state its oil-rich tidelands and its states rights.

* * *

Would Hit All States.

WITHIN the next few weeks, the U. S. Supreme Court will hear arguments to determine whether it has jurisdiction to try a government suit asking possession of Louisiana and Texas tidelands. The oil under the Texas tidelands alone has an estimated value of $10,000,000,000.

But it is a hearing whose repercussions will reach far beyond the boundaries of these two states and determine, in Gov. Jester's opinion, the very fate of every one of the 48 states.

A quiet but eloquent champion of state's rights, Jester is convinced that this attempt to take the Louisiana and Texas tidelands is merely the first step in the nationalization or socialization of all the country's national resources.

"It's part and parcel of the trend toward socialism," Jester said. "Let's not fool ourselves.

"If it is established that the federal government can grab tidelands, on the edge or periphery of a state, it can with equal ease grab those in the interior."

The governors of a preponderent majority of the other 48 states apparently feel the same way. Alarmed by the tidelands case, the governors' conference in Salt Lake in 1947 and in Portsmouth in 1948, tacitly appointed Jester its spokesman at subsequent congressional hearings on the vital issue.

"This is merely one more attempt to enlarge the power and authority of the federal government," Jester insisted. "That authority has now gone beyond the mere power to tax and is moving toward confiscation of property.

"This is the first time that the federal government has ever moved against the property rights of the states, beginning with the move against the California tidelands in the Supreme Court in 1947."

Jester believes this move on the part of the government reflects the trend toward socialism abroad in the world today. He is convinced that the trend, if it continues, will turn governors and state legislatures into "mere housekeepers for absentee owners in Washington."

Adventure In Tasting

By CALVIN A. BYERS

BY THE western border of our field, a clump of weeds attracted my attention, because although the woody tops were like wizened skeletons, the climbing root stems — twisted rhizomes — emitted a fragrance that spoke its own good name. The anise plant was moving upward to its own.

The two older boys were with me. I broke off a portion of the moist stems and ate it, then offered them some. It was relished by all of us. I remembered something that I had noticed last fall — sure enough, another root was close by. I dug this up, broke the clean white tender stem and gave each a taste. Young boyish mouths were puckered stiff — young groans were vociferous! Wild garlic flavor lasted until after supper!

Along Honey Creek several varieties of mint are distinctly evident every summer. The roots grow long and parallel, yet each stem has its own flavor... how is it possible that one plant can distil an acrid taste while another brings with it delicate, pleasing freshness?

One of the most interesting persons I know tastes every new plant he discovers. He eats buds of trees, seeds of fruits, petals of flowers. He claims it is an adventurous taste thrill that keeps him from ever being bored.

I guess it is fortunate that so few plants are definitely harmful to human beings. It seems that Nature takes care that toxic poisons are seldom present in living plants, even when they are sprayed directly on the leaves.

Emerson said: "Weeds are plants whose virtues have never been discovered."

It is doubtless true that there are many weeds that would make valuable food crops, if they were discovered — and other weeds would furnish plentiful stimulants to the soil.

Locust trees grow wild hereabouts—the beans make excellent stock food, if allowed to mature on rough pasture land. The roots are nitrogen fixers, and improve the soil just as other legumes do. Why do not more farmers sow locust beans along the fencerows, or in pasture corners?

North Atlantic Pact Nears Completion

By J. C. OESTREICHER

THE WIDELY-DISPUTED North Atlantic defense pact has taken positive form and shape with dispatch of a final draft to the capitals of participating nations.

And while ratification by the United States Senate and the parliaments of other nations is essential before the treaty becomes law the pact as framed is intended as a watertight safeguard against aggression.

There are distinct indications that its sponsors wish to correlate it in every respect with existing United Nations undertakings as well as with other solemn international obligations entered into during and after the war.

The pact specifies that it in no way prejudices earlier treaty commitments. Thus it protects the treaties of mutual alliance signed by both Great Britain and France with Soviet Russia soon after the end of the conflict.

Of great importance was the choice of the Tropic of Cancer as the southern boundary of the territory and water expanses that the treaty seeks to guarantee and protect.

Roughly, this imaginary line above the Equator runs from the so-called "bulge" of northwest Africa in the Spanish colony of Rio de Oro due west through the Straits of Florida between Key West and Cuba and then on across the "waist" of Mexico to the Pacific.

The states of Central and South America lie south of this line. But they are linked with the United States in far-reaching inter-American defense agreements.

Just as in the projected North Atlantic pact, these agreements regard an attack on any signatory nation as an assault on all of them. Therefore the North Atlantic and Inter-American pacts become almost automatically part and parcel of one another.

Danish Foreign Minister Gustav Rasmussen is arriving in Washington to discuss his country's participation. Certain to figure in the discussions are Greenland and Iceland, which have ties of different natures with Denmark, and Spitzbergen where the Russians tried without success to obtain a base.

With Norway already pledged to sign, there seems no question that Denmark will come in, wholeheartedly and enthusiastically, and then the eyes of the world will turn back once again to Sweden and her stolid neutrality.

Fireworks Display to Cost $2,000

Parks Group Plans Fourth of July Show

The Mansfield Public Parks associatism plans to spend at least $2,000 on a Fourth of July fireworks display at Arlin field.

Officers of the Park association, headed by Robert Ellis, and officer representatives of the various park associations in the city met last night to dicuss the contract offered by a representative of a fireworks company.

Legal advice will be sought and if the contract is approved, the association will go ahead with the purchase of the fireworks as outlined in the contract.

It was decided last night that presidents of the various park associations would make up an executive committee to head arrangements for the Fourth of July celebration.

These presidents include: Harvey Ritzsimmons, South and Maple Lake association; Donald Cram, South Boulevards; Frank Gillingham, North Lake park; Jay Shadel, John Todd; Philip Renie, Prospect; and Leo Kirkpatrick, Johns par.

On March 23, the executive committee will meet again to appoint sub-committees and to start planning details. These committees will include ticket, concessions, and publicity.

Tickets, Ellis said today, would be moderately priced. Pro ceeds will be used to pay for the fireworks and the improvements of Mansfield parks.

City's Traffic Less Dangerous

Fatalities Below U. S. City Average

'Record Still Not Good,' Says Boals

Mansfield turned in a better traffic safety record for 1948 than did most other U. S. cities over 10,000 population, according to the National Safety Council, but Traffic Commissioner Frend Boals did not consider it a good year.

Traffic accidents in Mansfield during the past year resulted in four deaths, a rate of 10.8 fatalities per 100,000 population. This rate compares favorably with the national rate of 21.9 killed per population, the National Safety Council's report discloses.

But Boals said Mansfield actually had five deaths due to motor accidents in the city during 1948. One person died in 1949 as the direct result of a 1948 accident.

Boals said he didn't consider the 1938 record as a good one, but he was more satisfied with Mansfield's 1947 record when only two persons were fatally injured in traffic accidents.

Comparisons were also made by the number of cars in use in the safety council's survey which covered 386 cities with a population over 10,000.

Mansfield's record was 2.1 fatalities per 10,000 registered cars as against an average of 3.9 for all the cities.

The report shows that there were 697 fewer fatal accidents in 1948 than in the prior year. The reduction, which amounted to two per cent, left the national toll at 32,000. Slight though the improvement was, it was accomplished in the face of a rise of seven percent in travel in 1948. Viewed from this standpoint—miles traveled—1948 had the lowest auto death rate ever recorded, the Safety Council states.

Slowdown, Stoppages Lead to Embargoes on Light Freight

NEW YORK — (UP) — The Railway Express agency yesterday embargoed all less-than-carload rail and air express shipments into and out of New York City.

The order was issued after 9,000 employes in railway express terminals in New York and New Jersey began work slowdown and stoppage tactics in protest against what they termed company stalling tactics in contract negotiations in Chicago.

A. M Hartung, vice president in charge of personnel, said that "because of the importance of New York as an express center, the embargo here will affect employment throughout the nation. He added that the positions of the 9,000 workers "will be abolished" by the embargo.

Hartung said slowdown was begun Tuesday night and gained momentum today. He said that at one terminal at which 40 per cent of the New York traffic is handled none of the employes reported for work yesterday morning.

As a result, he said, terminals became so congested it was necessary to cut off all further traffic involving the city.

Among the affected employes, according to Hartung, are 3,300 truck drivers affiliated with the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Daniel Sullivan, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, said the 9,000 workers involved wanted immediate application of the 40-hour week. They now work 44 hours. Sullivan said the workers insisted on a wage increase of seven cents an hour as well as the shorter work week.

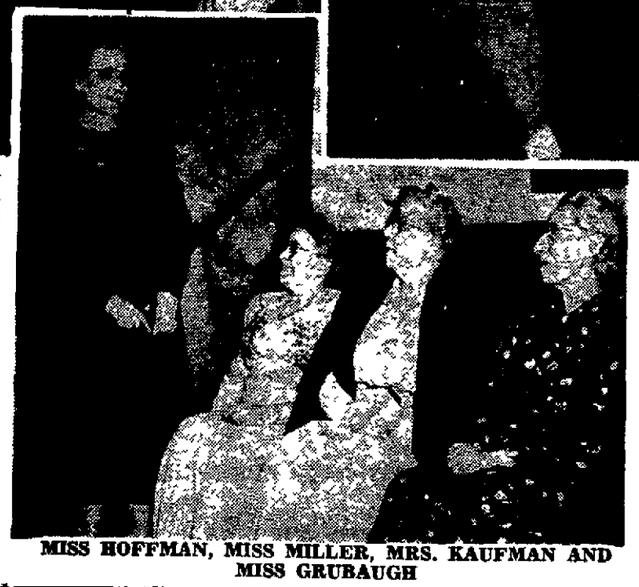
Silver Anniversary Observed By B. and P. W. Club

MISS PROVO, MRS. CLAUSS, MRS. FERGUSON AND MISS DANBACK

MRS. MORROW, MISS ADDLESPERBER, MISS WIERMAN AND MISS PEIFFER



MISS HOFFMAN, MISS MILLER, MRS. KAUFMAN AND MISS GRUBAUGH

One of the most interesting programs presented to the Mansfield Business and Professional Women's club in recent years was given last evening with Mrs. Hazel R. Ferguson of Evanston, Ill., as the guest speaker. The occasion observed the 25th anniversary of one of Mansfield's largest and most active women's organizations.

More than 100 attended the dinner and program held in the ballroom of the Mansfield Leland hotel. Preceding the meal Mrs. Charles Kerr and Miss Minnie Laudon presided as hostesses for the informal reception honoring Mrs. Ferguson on the mezzanine floor.

When guests and members were seated at 7 o'clock for the dinner the places were marked with dainty spring flowers and a lighted yellow taper. Guests were present from Loudonville, Shelby, Marion and Tiffin clubs.

Honored guests for the party were Miss Lucille Provo of Cleveland, state president of the B. and P. W., Mrs. Beth Johns of Berea, third vice-president for the state group; and Mrs. Dorothy Flechtner of Tiffin, state news social service chairman.

The committee in charge of arrangements was composed of Miss Estella Arras, Mrs. Leo Stuhldreher, Miss Jennie Conrad, Miss Sarah Crum and Miss Martha Morgan.

A brief business session was conducted by the president, Mrs William Clauss, at which time the group voted to sponsor swimming classes for women at the YMCA pool on Wednesday evening at 6 30 p m and 8 p. m.

Miss Pearl Wierman, hospitality chairman, announced that the next meeting will be a dessert luncheon in the clubroom of the Mansfield Leland hotel on April 13 at 7 p. m. Members were informed that the national B. and P. W. president, Dr. Frances Scott, would appear in Columbus on March 27.

Mrs. Clauss introduced the guests in attendance and the 22 charter members of the club. Miss Georgiann Chidsey, a past-president, favored with a clever poem, which introduced the past-presidents of the organization.

The program continued with three numbers, "When I Have Sung My Songs," "Dancing on the Green" and "Let My Song Fill Your Heart," given by the B. and P. W. Glee club.

Miss Pearl Danback, program chairman, gave a brief resume of the early activities of the club and read from minutes when the club was in its infancy.

The speaker, Mrs. Ferguson, a prominent business woman of the middle west, was introduced and used as her topic, "Woman's Influence"

She appealed to her audience by her charming presentation of facts which were dear to the hearts of the listeners. She outlined the progress made by women in the past 25 years.

She said women have a large job in public life but that she greatly disliked the term "career women." She said that out of the 22 million women who are employed that at least six million of them are holding two jobs—business and homemaker.

"Our influence is the power of establishing respect," said the speaker. "We have carried our share in pioneer movements."

She stressed the fact that women had earned their recognition during the recent war when they entered industry and other vital business fields.

In closing she urged the women to realize the full significance of the home, which should be the center of her life. She said it begins with the community and should include state, national and international.

"We should take advantage of our opportunities to mold public opinion," she said.

Ocean Front Hotels Busy

MIAMI BEACH, Fla — (AP) — There is a saying along Collins avenue that the 1949 winter tourist is tighter with a buck than at any time since before the war—but it hasn't put a crimp in a luxury hotel building boom, or the cost of an ocean front room.

Nineteen new luxury hotels have opened this winter and all are enjoying capacity business. They range from one super plush establishment which cost upwards of $5,000,000 to several 50-room hotels set back from the ocean.

But they all have this in common. modern design, genuine comfort, high rates and capacity business

One ultra modern oceanfront hostelry is a good example. Manager Charles M. Rousseau says his hotel cost about $3,500,000 furnished—or about $14,000 for each of the 250 rooms

Beginning Jan 20, the hotel has been filled to capacity with an average of 150 to 200 turnaways every day Reservations guarantee capacity business until early April. The story is the same along the entire stretch of Collins avenue with its 150-odd oceanfront hotels.

About 25 per cent of Rousseau's hotel rooms rent for $35 a day, double Sixty per cent go for $30 a day and, except for eight $40 a day rooms, the rest can be picked up for a paltry $25. This is about the average for oceanfront hotels—give or take $10 to $15 Mostly give.

BATHING COMFORT—The problem of heating bathrooms comfortably without sacrifice of valuable floor space has been solved by the development of more compact heating units for use in new or remodeled homes. The modern bathroom pictured above is fitted with one of the new convector radiators recessed in a wall. While the convector provides the desired warmth for the bathroom, the exposed surfaces of the cabinet never get dangerously hot The heating element of the unit is completely concealed inside the decorative metal cabinet, safely away from children's prying fingers.

Spring Prints Are To Be Plentiful

Prints appear to brighten up the winter scene, when the snow is still on the ground, and continue to be fashion-right until the last days of autumn. They sparkle under fur coats, and are beautiful when worn alone and accessorized. Predominant now are the black, brown and navy grounds, with gay splashy florals to lighten them. Soon there will be pastel grounds, and sheerer fabrics that appear and the prints will become smaller and neater, and more diversified in design. The trend is to the neat, charming, orderly print, in all-over patterns. These are most universally becoming to women, young and old.

Shantung presents itself in a brand new garb, printed prettily with wide-spaced designs. The textured fabric lends its thick and thin yarns to this extra interest. Among the newest prints are the batik type, with their intriguing shapes and patterns for cottons and for rayons. They are exotic and unusual, with the print often used for a shoulder-floated stole.

From Babylonia and Persia come another group of designs, rich and sumptuous in coloring and styling They combine soft rose tones and the coppery colors that are associated with the East There is a depth to the shades, and they require simple fashions to show off their beauty. The paisleys are subtly, delicately handled with their blending of tones and colors Taffeta comes soft-talking into the Spring scene, paper thin and daintily sprinkled with flowers for bustle draped and prettily detailed dresses that swish with every step.

Pure silks are abundant, drapey and fluid, for dresses or ensembles. One of the newest combinations of coloring for these fabrics is black coupled with brown, in wavy, swirling motifs. They have to be handled softly to give a harmonious effect. On navy, shades from palest of pinks to the deepest of reds are featured and on browns, the gamut from nearly-white beige to apricot hue.

There are some printed stripes and bayaderes, often with tiny sprigs and blossoms providing the print. Geometrics are preferred by the conservative, with their squares and circles, lines and triangles, in their precise array. Red and green of times companions, and a light bright green is splashed or sprinkled or strewn with a myriad of other colors.

Speaks Tonight

MILLERSBURG—Rev. Thomas L Cromwell, pastor of the First Methodist church, Millersburg, will speak on the topic, "Receipe for a Real Home" at the March meeting of the P-T. A to be held in the school auditorium, at 8 p. m tonight.

One out of every three apples consumed in the United States is grown in the State of Washington, thus earning that area its designation as the Apple Bowl of the World.

Mechanical Sinks Simplify Kitchen Chores Say Editors

MECHANICAL SINKS, which incorporate dishwashers and garbage grinders, are more sanitary, more economical and save up to 75 per cent of the time required to do the same work by old ways, according to a comprehensive survey reported in House Beautiful magazine.

In ten pages of illustrated text, the editors answer the principal objections voiced against the mechanical sink, describe its operation in detail and provide information on types, costs and local ordinances governing installation.

"We are convinced," say the magazine's editors, "that adverse criticism of the mechanical sink comes only from those who have had no experience with it. It is our feeling that to do without it now, after finding out for many months how it simplifies kitchen chores, would be like returning to kerosene lamps and wood stoves."

The article acknowledges that the automatic dishwasher won't do a satisfactory job on sticky pots, certain types of plastic dishes and cemented knives and that the garbage disposer can't handle extremely fibrous materials, tin, string, wire or heavy paper. However, it reports, the dishwasher washes, sterilizes and drys tableware in ten to 30 minutes with the flick of a switch and saves soap, dishclothes and towels as well as skin texture. And the garbage disposer grinds bones and other hard materials, flushes them away with cold water and eliminates the handling of garbage and the resultant odors.

Pictures accompanying the article show the various ways in which mechanical sinks can be installed in modern or old-fashioned kitchens. There is also a layout of 14 different models of garbage disposers.

Under the heading "What You Need to Know About Dishwashers and Garbage Disposers," the editors answer questions involving necessary plumbing and electrical connections, hot water and soaps, operations costs and effects on sewage systems.

The article cites some interesting figures by way of emphasizing the usefulness of mechanical dishwashers. "It has been figured out," say the editors, "that during her married life the average woman will wash and dry 2½ million dishes, or 340 tons, and she will take 10,000 hours to do it. If one machine can lessen this drudgery," the editors conclude, "it is something to consider seriously."

Horoscope

Release Thurs, March 10
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Friday, March 11

The auguries for the day may be read as quite unpredicatable, since the complexion of events and conditions may come within the range of the unique, spectacular, sensational and dramatic. The energies, faculties and forces are attuned to the dynamic urge, in which novelty, experiment, inventive genius and creative ability, may be assured sensational returns. Public recognition and private appreciation combine to bring a crisis, curious and thrilling.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may anticipate a period of the unusual, unprecedented and unpredictable, tritely the advice is to "expect the unexpected." However, the talents, emotions and feelings may be disposed to be erratic, prone to manifest the eccentricities of genius, unless firmly diverted into constructive and practical channels. It is timely to cash in on some exceptional idea, plan or creative faculty, launched with precision. Proper and well-directed effort should meet distinguished success.

A child born on this day is brilliantly equipped for success along creative lines or in some exceptional field of a public nature. A romantic career as well as thrilling is forecast.

Prize-Winning Roses Glamorize Gardens

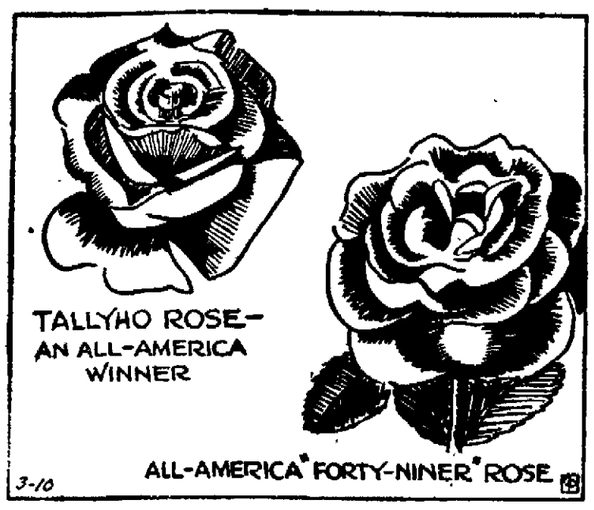
By DEAN HALLIDAY
(By Central Press)

Add glamor to your rose garden this year by trying out the two All-America winners for 1949, Tallyho and Forty-niner. Both are hybrid tea roses, and characteristic blooms are illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Tallyho has two-tone petals, pink inside and red outside with a spicy fragrance. It is an extraordinarily vigorous rose, and like Forty-niner, has had two years of testing in trial gardens in different parts of the country.

Forty-niner is a brilliant combination of vivid red inside the petals and creamy yellow outside. The blooms have a mild, pleasant fragrance. The plant is tall and vigorous with plenty of dark green foliage.

The rose is the acknowledged "Queen of Flowers," but what pleases gardeners more than anything else is the ease with which roses can be grown. With only a minimum of care, which any ordinary plant requires, roses can produce a profusion of fragrant blossoms in a wide range of colors. As result of improvements achieved by hybridizers, roses are increasingly sturdy, hardy and resistant to disease. Many of them bloom over a long season from June until late fall.



Roses can be used in a variety of ways in the garden. Climbers can be trained on fences or trellises built on garage walls. They can be used on arches, arbors or pillars and they make an excellent adornment for front entrances. Informal groups of hybrid teas and floribundas look well in front of the shrub border.

Floribundas are becoming increasingly popular in front of evergreens as in foundation plantings. The miniature roses are used in rock gardens and for edging.

Gives Tips On Insurance

Veterans planning to convert their National Service life insurance may convert only part of it if they wish, and the rest of it may be continued on a term basis, G. D. Weidemaier, manager-in-charge of the local VA office, said today.

GI insurance may be converted in amounts from $1,000 to $10,000 in multiples of $500, he said.

Weidemaier pointed out that vets now paying premuims on a monthly basis, on either term or permanent plans, can change to a quarterly, semi-annual or annual payment schedule.

Ice Cream Price Cut Delayed Here

The price of ice cream will remain the same for Mansfielders, but Cleveland residents are enjoying a price-cut of from 10 to 19 cents, according to an announcement made yesterday by the Bowman Ice Cream company, of Cleveland.

Local dairies say that there will "probably be something along the price-cut line, later this spring", but no immediate price roll-back is in view at present.

The amount of milk consumed by New Yorkers in 1948 slumped because of increased prices.

Latest Red Switch Doesn't Mean End to Dream of World Conquest

THE WILDER SILVER-LINING spotters among editorialists are hoping the Molotov-Vishinsky switch will take the snarl out of Russian foreign relations. They might as well expect the devil to sprout wings. Andrei's gosh-awful Vishinsky in the UN gives the lie to such wishful thinking.

That type of daydreaming is a cinch to invite nightmares. . . . As this reporter once noted—during Russia's purge trials Vishinsky publicly declared: "Two worlds face each other as irreconcilable and deadly enemies—the world of capitalism and the world of socialism."

The communist party's advocacy of treason is hardly news to those who understand the anatomy of communism: It is not just a political creed, but a direct plan of action.

Communists are not merely content to swap arguments—they plan to enforce their opinions with guns and chains. Every tool of liberty becomes a weapon in their hands. Every friendly act is considered a sign of weakness.

Native communists are invading soldiers of chaos who constantly wage a grim and relentless war against democracy. Providing them with the benefits of our Constitutional liberties is as idiotic as handing those rights to an invading army.

Communist leader William Z. Foster's book, "Toward a Soviet America," contains these blunt statements: "The American Soviet government will be organized along the lines of the Russian Soviets. The American Soviet government will join with the other Soviet governments in a world Soviet Union. The American Soviet government will be a dictatorship of the proletariat.

It is rediculous to debate whether or not the communists plan to use violent methods to seize power. The communists admit it.

From the Manifesto of the American communist party: "The revolutionary way out of the crisis begins with the fight for wage increases, against wage cuts — through demonstrations, strikes, general strikes, leading up to the seizure of power, to the destruction of capitalism by a revolutionary workers' government."

What these American chumps among the communist membership have yet to learn is the real purpose of Russia's Iron Curtain. . . . It isn't to keep us out. It is to keep the Russian people in.

Stalin knows that he is licked the moment the Russians know there is a world like ours, where you can buy an ice cream soda for 15 cents, where you can get a hot dog for a dime, and where a working man can own a car.

Declares Anything Older Than Yesterday Not Worth Relating

By GEORGE TUCKER
(For Hal Boyle)

MAX GORDON is not a man for small talk.

"Nothing older than yesterday is worth talking about," he says.

Now Max Gordon is a famous theatrical producer. He is a man of the world. Statesmen on both sides of the ocean are his confidants. Twice he survived nervous breakdowns. Once the stock market wiped him out.

With his background, Max ought to be able to charm the birds out of the trees if he wished. He has everything a great conversationalist needs—years of rich experience, friends of distinction.

But he doesn't go in much for idle conversation. He volunteers nothing.

Max was born in the slums of the east side and his father was a pants presser. He began in burlesque, booked acts for vaudeville, and finally became an independent producer in 1930.

Since then his judgment has backed between 60 and 70 shows.

So I went to see him the other day and I asked him to talk about himself.

"What's there to say?"

"Oh, come now, nobody could put on that many plays without having things happen!"

"They've been written."

"No disappointments?"

"I never had any."

"Then tell me about your successes."

"If they happened before yesterday, I close my mind to them. I never remember things older than yesterday."

"Didn't you once try to get Walter Huston to play 'Dodsworth'? Didn't they say he was in Washington? Didn't you ransack the hotels, looking for him? And after you had failed, didn't you run into Huston out riding? Didn't you close the deal on horseback?

"Yes."

"What happened?"

"Just what you said happened."

I knew Max Gordon was frugal with words, but I tried again.

★

"I have heard," I said, "of a young playwright who once sold you a one-act play. He needed a $50 advance to get married, and you gave it to him. Who was it?"

"Eugene O'Neill."

"That's what I mean," I cried, happy at last to get going. "Tell me more of the Eugene O'Neills, the warmer things of life, the anecdotes, the high spots of your career."

"There never was but one Eugene O'Neill."

He swung his chair around to me. "This has been going on 20 minutes. How long will it last? I'm hungry."

"The chance encounter that Noel Coward could have expanded into a five-act comedy never happened to you, did it, Mr. Gordon?"

"No. It begins to look as if no luncheon is going to happen to me."

But it did.

I hope Max got a good one. With plenty of talking serum sprinkled in his coffee.

150 Strike At Galion Steel Firm

Henkel Explains Rate Dispute

GALION — About 150 workers at the Central Ohio Steel Products company went on strike today in a dispute over an adjustment of rates for piecework.

The workers, members of local 1151, International Association of Machinists, (AFL) set up their picket lines in eight inches of snow that fell during the night.

Oliver C. Henkel, Mansfield executive vice president of the steel firm, said the company is attempting to bring hourly wages and piece work rates more nearly in line. He said a piece worker on existing rates can make $1.98 an hour compared with $1.08 for a worker on straight time.

Meanwhile, another 150 members of the same union continued their strike at the Hercules Steel Products company here. The strike started Feb. 21.

H. J. Montoney, of Columbus, a federal conciliator, has been handling negotiations here in both labor disputes. A meeting was scheduled today at Hercules between striking union officials and management officers with Montoney. It will be the first parley between the factions since the walkout and establishment of a picket line at the plant to bar workers' entrance.

Both steel firms manufacture steel dump truck bodies and hydraulic hosits.

Berlin Reds Lose Battle

BERLIN — (INS) — West Berlin police today smashed a communist mob's attempt to move a German communist official back into his U. S. sector office from which he was ousted yesterday.

West sector policemen scattered a crowd of several dozen German communists, and detained Wilhelm Knapp, former personnel director of the Berlin Transport Association (BVG). Knapp was later released and set back to the Soviet sector.

A strong police guard was posted around the BVG building after the unsuccessful communist effort.

The communist mob succeeded in throwing out the building guards, but were summarily ousted themselves when west sector police appeared on the scene.

Windows Broken

Raymond Goff, 475 South Diamond street, reported to police yesterday that children in the Mendota street district have broken the door glass and most of the windows in a house he moved to 155 Mendota street. Goff asked police to patrol the area after school hours.

IT SNOWED IN BERLIN, TOO—Although their parents find that Berlin's first snowfall of the winter has brought discomfort and misery, these children have the time of their lives a few hours after the snow had covered the streets. Here they are playing with a homemade sled built from wood and odd bits gleaned from the city's rubble heaps. Behind the youngsters are war-damaged buildings which they sometimes use as their playgrounds.

Townships Granted Help

Commissioners Approve Jobs

Richland county's highway department will help townships to improve 12 roads and complete a number of other road and bridge jobs this spring and summer, county commissioners indicated today.

In aiding the townships, the county does the work at cost, since some townships don't have the required equipment.

The approval grew out of meetings of County Engineer Walter E. Rusk with township officials from Feb. 28 through March 7.

Commissioners have instructed the county engineer to continue the joint program on the Kuhn road, as requested by Plymouth trustees. This road is on the county system, but in exchange for township work, the county will do work on township roads.

The engineer will apply 10,000 gallons of solid oil each on the Shoup and Preston roads. Discussed were berming of the London and Updyke roads, improvement of a ditch on the L. F. May farm, and an inspection of a railroad underpass in the township.

The county will berm and ditch the Miller road for Cass township trustees. Discussed was filling in this road at the Black Fork bridge and berming of the Free, Planktown, London, Updyke and Noble roads. Also discussed was clean-out and repair of the Hale ditch, with the county share of the cost estimated at $300.

Commissioners ordered berming and ditching of the Gilger and Swanger roads in Bloominggrove township, as requested.

HAULS MATERIALS

In Butler township, the county will proceed with hauling surfacing material on the Adario parking lot. Proposed grading of the Franklin church road is to be discussed later. Other discussion concerned berming of the Base Line, Clear Creek and Town Line roads.

Weller township will get county help in berming and ditching of the Chesrown road. Discussion of work on the Osbun road railroad underpass will be taken up later.

The county will aid Franklin township trustees in the berming of Boyce road. Joint work on the Timmerman and Rome-South roads was deferred for later discussion.

A joint program of work on the Hawk and Amoy-West roads was approved by commissioners, in accordance with a request of Jackson township trustees.

Sharon township trustees requested berming and ditching of the Funk and Rondy roads. Action was deferred. Commissioners will inspect the Settlement East and Weidner roads and a bridge on the Stiving road for possible work.

INSPECT CROSSINGS

Leveling of the Crestline-Bloominggrove road, as requested by Sandusky township, will be considered following a report on cost estimate. Commissioners will inspect railroad crossings on Beam and Thrush roads, with a view to improvements.

Springfield trustees asked for berming of Springmill West, Lewis and Rock roads, but no action was taken.

Legislation was ordered prepared for a joint program for bituminous applications for two miles of the Koogle-Harlan road, as requested by Mifflin trustees.

No work is to be done for Monroe township. Commissioners, however, are to inspect Gladden road, east of Pinhook, for possible improving. That was the only request.

Commissioners approved berming and ditching of Logan road and grading the grounds for the new township building, as requested by Washington trustees.

Troy township trustees asked for berming and ditching of Texter, Gass, and Williamsport-Bloominggrove roads, grading of Schier road and relocating and widening of Lexington-Ontario road, but action on these projects was deferred.

DITCHING APPROVED

Commissioners approved ditching of the Clever road and berming and ditching of the Painter road, requested by Perry trustees.

Jefferson trustees asked for grading of Andrews road and for a channel change on the Renie road, but action was deferred.

Berming and ditching of Harris road as requested by Worthington trustees was approved, while work on the Union street bridge in Butler was discussed.

A survey of the McElroy road in Madison township was ordered, but no work was ordered on any project in the township. Commissioners will view the Geddes street ditch.

At the request of trustees, the county will order oil in the following amounts when it makes its purchases, for these townships:

Plymouth, 5,000 gallons; Weller, 4,200; Jackson, 3,000; Sharon, 15,000; Sandusky, 1,600; Springfield, 8,000; Monroe, 5,000, and Madison, 50,000 gallons.

Recreation In Style

GI's Again Invade Hitler's 'Paradise'

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

BERCHTEGADEN — (AP) — United States soldiers in Europe who want rest and recreation have it served up in style here.

The U. S. Army center in Bershtesgaden offers them a variety of entertainment—indoor and outdoor—in one of the country's most scenic areas.

Seven hotels and two ski lodges have been set up as guest centers for officers and enlisted men who come to Berchtesgaden on an equitable distribution program arranged by quota systems.

Where high nazi party officers deferred to Hitler, American G.I's dine off table linen still bearing the old swastikas, and sleep between sheets carefully marked with the party symbol.

Maj. Forrest W. Creaner of Jeffersonville, Ohio, an officer at the center commented drily:

"We get some here who want to write about the swastikas on the linen. We thought we could stand the markings and save the sheets."

The Berchtesgaden rest and recreation center can handle a maximum of 700 officers and men. The former pay two and three dollars for their rooms and the enlisted men seventy-five cents. Officers pay for their meals in hotel dining rooms, but enlisted men are fed free.

Walter L. Butz, 26-year-old former G. I. of Walton, Ind., is in charge of the hotel system.

Former combat soldiers keep the mountain path to Hitler's former retreat busy.

Butz, whose office is the former headquarters of nazi General Wilhelm Keitel, is assisted by M-Sgt. D. W. Curtis of Canton, O. He rides the trains with visitors coming to Berchtesgaden, and says "There never is any trouble."

"All behave," he said. "One word to them and they quiet right down."

Everybody praises troops of the U. S. First Division, and Curtis says: [redacted]

Correll In Athens Now

John T. Correll, native of Mansfield and a former school teacher here, is now in Athens as a representative of the state department. In a letter received by James Breres, 325 North Main street, Correll tells of having been transferred to Greece from Washington. He was formerly stationed in South Africa.

"I have learned to love the Greek people. They are struggling hard to end the civil war and the American Mission here is doing everything in its power to reconstruct and rehabilitate the country," Correll says.

He says mail may be addressed to him and Mrs. Correll at the Athens Embassy in Athens.

Correll, who has been in the Foreign Service for three years, was at one time president of the Richland county Young Democratic club. Breres at the time was secretary.

Lodge Inspected

CRESTLINE — John Odgers, of Bellevue, was inspecting officer here Saturday as the initiatory degree was conferred on one I.O.O.F. candidate. The local lodge's inspection brought a 95 per cent grade on the officers' efficiency and lodge session, 80 per cent of membership and attendance. No grade was given for degree work.

Group Urges Treasury Reshuffling

Decry Politics In Appointments

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The treasury should have closer supervision over government lending, the Hoover commission said today.

It also told Congress the department could operate more efficiently and economically if freed from "political appointments," particularly those of interval revenue and customs collectors.

The government reorganization group headed by former President Herbert Hoover split 8 to 4 in recommending direct treasury "supervision" over two multi-billion dollar agencies: the Reconstruction Finance corporation, chiefly a linder to U. S. business concerns and the export-import bank, chiefly a lender to foreign governments.

"The President," said the majority report, "cannot give the time necessary for their supervision. Parctically, they are accountable to nobody. The treasury should again be made the real fiscal center of the government."

While there was dissension on that point, the commission called unanimously for "thorough" reorganization of the treasury to rid it of politics, "obsolete organization and methods" and irrelevant functions.

To get politics out, the commission said, all treasury officials below assistant secretary "should preferably be appointed from the career service without Senate confirmation."

All 12 members agreed the narcotics bureau, which flights the illicit drug traffic, should be shifted from the treasury to the Justice department, and that the treasury should give up its role as chief supply buyer for the government.

The commission recommended the treasury be made a central agency to (A) "inspect" 10 other once-active lending agencies still holding more than $1,000,000,000 in assets, and (B) speed up their liquidation.

Can of Powder Poses Stiff Problem For Twinsburg Man

TWINSBURG —(UP) Henry Allen yesterday offered for free a 25-pound can of blasting powder to anyone who will remove it from his yard with no repercussions.

Allen, a truck driver, found the powder 100 yards from his house last month. He recognized it because he once worked in a powder plant.

Allen said he won't remove the powder because it may go off if jolted, and he has a wife and two-year old son to think of.

Constable Albert Hewes also refused to move the potent can. "Hewes is a good friend of mine," Allen said. "He looked it over and then decided he had to think of his wife and two children. I don't blame him."

Hewes referred the matter to the Summit county sheriff and is still waiting to hear from him.

Allen said he thought of throwing the can in a nearby creek, but realized it was sealed and water couldn't get in. "And I don't think it would be a good idea to puncture the can," he said.

It was suggested he blast the powder by shooting at the can from a distance. "But that's liable to cause too much damage to my house and the one across the street," Allen said.

U. S. Dead-Letter Office Plays Host to Odd Items

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON —(UP)— You'd be surprised what winds up in Uncle Sam's dead letter office.

Girdles for five-gaited horses. Girdles for one-gainted fat ladies. Kerosene lamps. Boxes of wiggle, or fishing, worms. Gold fish in bowls of fresh water and labeled "please feed every morning." And the loose makings for an upper plate of false teeth.

The post office people take it all in stride.

The long, cluttered room in the main post office here is but one of 317 dead letter and dead parcel branches in the country. But it is typical of the others.

Every year, you and I and our lovely ladies address almost 18,000,000 letters incorrectly and sent out 700,000 parcels that wind up where they shouldn't.

By opening the letters (and finding the darndest things) the faithful postal workers are able to send along 4,500,000 letters where they belong—those with a return address on the inside. Ditto for one out of six of the ckages.

If there is no address inside or out, they are burned—unless there is any cash money inside. In that case it's Uncle Sam's gain—after a year. Not too long ago, the Washington post office found a letter with $3500 inside. That, despite the fact the government warns against mailing cash through the mails.

The parcels are sold after 60 days—at public auction. Mainly because the stuff piles up and there is no place to keep it. Also because feeding mis-sent rabbits, baby chicks and the like runs into money (not to mention the pain of playing nursemaid to a multiplication of guinea pigs—as happened not long ago in St. Louis.)

On last count, the government realized half a million dollars in the sale of unclaimed mail—which is more than it cost the government to handle it.

However, as one post office official put it, that wouldn't be enough to run a large post office for very long.

The stuff goes to the highest bidder. Recently, also in St. Louis, a $7.50 girdle went for nine cents because there didn't happen to be anybody in the crowd of bidders who could wear it. A timid little man bought it and explained he was buying it on "speculation," hoping to sell it at a profit.

Do not touch a radio, electric heater, light switches or other electric appliances when in the bathtub or when washing dishes or clothes.

Tygers, Fostoria Good Despite Records

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

CANTON will start work on its new 5,000-seat athletic field house this year. . . . The plant will be located on the same grounds which now hold Fawcett stadium, Canton's football field . . . Plans call for a stage but it will only be a secondary item as no attempt will be made to make the structure an ideal auditorium . . . The aim is to build a practical place for scholastic sports . . . Most Canton sportsmen feel that 5,000 seats is not enough but only $350,000 has been set aside for the field house and that may not stretch to the 5,000 seating figure . . . Max Lanier, the guy who went to Mexico to make more money and then found his judgment was bad, now wants millions from organized baseball . . . He is proving to be a bad sport and even if reinstated would be a poor investment . . . Players who have "sold out" once could do it again . . . Just a month ago Max made the statement, "I don't want to hurt anyone . . . I just hope that Commissioner Chandler will let us play again" . . . The dodge that OB took away his means of a livelihood is a laugh . Lanier developed a bad arm while pitching in assorted outlaw leagues and may have to find some other job anyhow . . . It looks as if he is trying to get damages so he won't have to work again . . . We would rather side with Mickey Owen, who realizes his mistake and is patiently waiting for another chance.

Cleveland's Ken Keltner blasted five in Boston and Detroit . He tied Pat Seerey in Philadelphia with four but Pat got all of his in one game . . The Yankee slugger belted only 15 in Yankee stadium and 24 on the road.

Friday Game Has Experts In Dither

By CHARLEY STINE

The Mansfield - Fostoria game set for Sandusky Friday night had the experts guessing today whether it will be one of the best or worst among the 32 district tournament semi-final games throughout the state.

All indications point to a sterling battle yet the clubs will probably take the floor with two of the poorest records among the 64 Class A clubs still alive at that time.

Both are definitely in-and-out clubs, having been beaten seven times each but also having knocked off some of northern Ohio's finest. Mansfield has a 16-won-7-lost record, while Fostoria has only 14-7.

TWO GAMES

The contest is set for 7:30 p. m. on the Sandusky High floor. Bellevue (18-6) and Toledo Whitmer (17-5) meet in the second fame. Winners will play Saturday night for the right to go to the Toledo regional next week.

Mansfield walloped Bucyrus, winner of 16 straight games while Fostoria handed the Findlay Trojans one of its two defeats in 20 ball games. Fostoria has played Findlay three times and has lost by three points and nine points, and won by four points. Findlay won the first, 44-36, Fostoria took the second, 42-38, and Findlay won the sectional tourney final last Saturday, 38-35.

Only common opponents of Fostoria and Mansfield were Lima Central, Fremont and Sandusky. Both took Fremont and Sandusky handily but Senior lost to Lima, .59-49 while Fostoria broke even. It lost to Central in the final regular game of the season, then knocked it out of regional tournament play a week later, 46-41.

Fostoria's victims include Sandusky, Toledo Macomber, Fremont (twice), Defiance, Toledo Scott, Tiffin (twice), Findlay, Marion Harding, Fostoria St. Winland, Upper Sandusky and Lima Central. It lost to Columbus West, Bowling Green (twice) and Lima Central.

BOTH FAST

The game could develop into a battle of speed if coaches of both schools desire to play it that way. Both have speed to burn, but Mansfield has the edge when it comes to height.

Whereas as the Tygers average somewhere around six-one or six-two at most times, Fostoria is right at or just below the six-foot mark. Regular center Pastorious is six-four but the other are all near the 72-inch mark. Hot shot of the lot is supposed to be Carlos Jackson, the five-ten forward who won fame as a football player. Glenn Rhude is the other forward while Ronnie Shumaker and Jim Cotter are starters at guard.

Foresters Cop 2nd Half Flag

The Catholic Foresters annexed the second half championship of the Friendly House junior league by defeating Main Sandwich Shop, 25-23 yesterday.

Since Main Sandwich won the first half title, the two teams will meet again Thursday, March 24, for the league championship.

Sutters defeated the Junior Optimists, 41-30 in the other game last night.

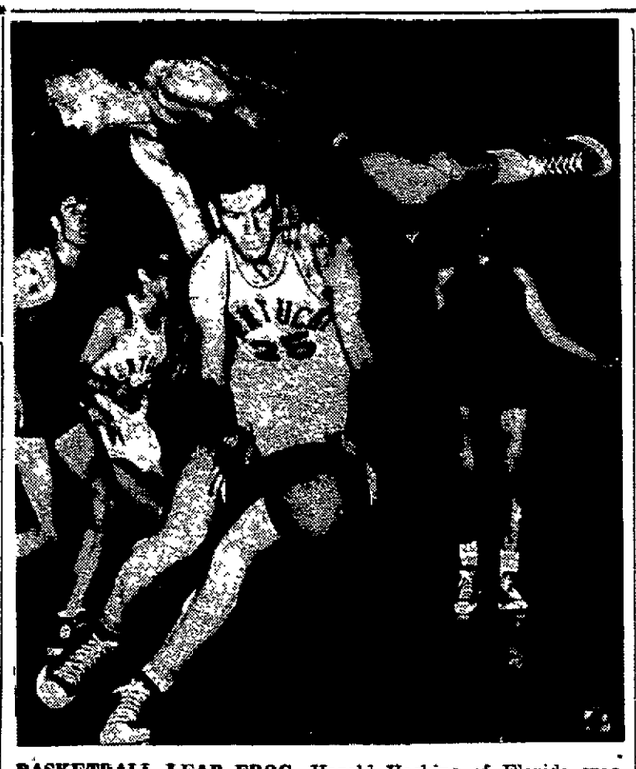
Willard to Stage Benefit Cage Tilt

WILLARD — The Eagles lodge will take over the Willard high gym Saturday night to present a basketball card for the benefit of the high school band.

The featured game between the local Eagles quintet and the Eagles of Garrett, Ind. will be preceded by an old-timers game and a drill exhibition by the lady Eagles drill team.



BASKETBALL LEAP FROG—Harold Haskins of Florida was riding high before he came down on the shoulders of James Line (25) of Kentucky in the closing minutes of the Florida-Kentucky game in the Southeastern conference at Louisville, Ky. Cage Officials Volunteer Services For Benefit Tilt

Although the ticket sale is still not up to expectations, many Mansfield basketball fans and officials have volunteered their services to make the Cleveland Browns' benefit basketball appearance here next Wednesday a success.

All proceeds of the game will go into the Friendly House gymnasium fund, except the expense of bringing the Browns' team to Mansfield. First group to get on the bandwagon, started by the Goodfellow club, was the collection of Mansfield basketball players who will battle the Browns.

WINS TWO GAMES

The 14-man all-star squad has already played three games to get into condition for the tussle. It will play one more test next Monday night. The all-stars here won two or three.

Senior high school has loaned a complete set of jerseys to the players while Ed Demyan, Tyger cage star, will act as timekeeper. Madison football coach, Ennis Walker, will keep score.

Charley Saprano and Joe Atton, City league officials, have donated their whistle-blowing services. Volunteer ushers are: Jim LeMunyon jr., Joe Lesch, Harry Ackerman, Clarence Herrick, Jerry Dent, Bob Shade, Vern Jones, John Fike, Dave Shelley and Earl Herrick.

PUSHING TICKETS

The Kiwanis club members are pushing the ticket drive and uptown ducat offices are at the City News, Elks club and Tawse pharmacy. The Goodfellows hope to raise $2,000 by the ticket sale. Admission price is $2 for reserved seat and $1 for general admission.

Concession stands will be handled by Friendly House personnel.

Invitational To Open Fire On Saturday

NEW YORK — (AP) — The national invitation basketball tournament, which finally let almost everyone into the act, will open here Saturday afternoon with 12 teams, four more than ever before.

The oversized field includes six of the nation's first 10 clubs and three of the five players on the Associated Press all-America first team.

This is the line-up:

Kentucky (29-1), St. Louis (21-3), Utah (24-7), Western Kentucky (25-3), Bradley (25-6), San Francisco (21-5), Bowling Green 21-6), Loyola of Chicago (22-5), City college of New York 17-7), Manhattan (18-7), St. John's of Brooklyn (15-8), and New York university (12-7).

CATS TOPS

Kentucky, which also is trying for the brass ring on the NCAA merry-go-round, is the No. 1 team in the country. St. Louis is No. 3, Western Kentucky No. 5, Bradley 7, San Francisco 8 and Bowling Green 10

The all-Americas are Alex Groza and Ralph Beard of Kentucky and Ed Macauley of St. Louis.

The tournament committee gave up yesterday on the problem of trying to pick a second New York team to fill the last spot in the original eight-team bracket. The solution: Let in three more New York clubs (CCNY already had been chosen) and add a pair of deserving out-of-towners, Bowling Green and Loyola.

The pairings:

Upper bracket — Kentucky vs. bye; CCNY vs. Chicago Loyola; NYU vs. Bradley; Western Kentucky vs. bye.

Lower bracket — Utah vs bye; San Francisco vs. Manhattan; Bowling Green vs. St. John's, St. Louis vs. bye.

Snead, Mangrum Top Favorites

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — The 24th annual internatianal four-ball golf tournament opened today, and Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago were ranked as the duo to beat.

The two were among thirty-two of the nation's top ranking professionals scheduled to tee off for the opening round over the 6,630-yard par 70 Miami Springs course.

Pat O'Sullivan Is Lone Joust Survivor

St. Augustine, Fla., — (AP) — Pat O'Sullivan of Orange, Conn., was a surprise survivor going into today's semi-final round of the Florida East Coast Women's golf tournament.

She met Pat Devany of Frosse Ile, Mich., in one semi-final match, and Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore faced Polly Riley of Fort Worth in the other.

Hamilton 1st To Qualify For Regional

By HAROLD LISK
INS Sports Writer

COLUMBUS — The honor of being the first team to qualify for regional play in the state high school basketball go-round went today to the powerful team from Hamilton Public.

The Big Blue defeated Cincinnati St. Xavier, 56 to 27, in the finals of the Class A Queen City district tourney last night before 4,500 fans. The game never was in doubt, the Big Blue leading at the half 24-10.

Pre-tourney warnings that Hamilton would be the team to beat for the state title apparently are true. Losers of only one game this year, the Big Blue has scored 228 points in four tourney appearances while holding their opponents to 112.

23 FALL OUT

Last night's play dropped 11 more A teams from the chase for the state title, leaving only 46. In the smaller-school Class B division, an even dozen teams dropped by the wayside last night, leaving 63 still in there battling for a place in the four regionals.

The upset of upsets was chalked chalked up in the Akron tourney on two baskets in the last 35 seconds last night. Akron Garfield, in winning No. 13 against four defeats, eliminated previously undefeated Akron South, 35 to 34. South had won 15 in a row up until last night. Garfield faces Barberton, 38-37 winners over Akron West, in the lower bracket finals.

Little Walnut Creek, winners of 25 straight games, went down to a surprising defeat in the Dennison district Class B meet. Scio, winners of 25 out of 28 up to last night, eliminated the Holmes county entry, 57 to 55.

The score was tied three times and the lead changed hands 12 times. Scio was behind seven points with five minutes to go.

Other Class A attractions last night saw Columbus Central and Delaware Wells, both seeded, advance to the finals of the central district. Central won No. 23 against only one defeat in beating Newark, 37 to 34.

New Philadelphia earned the right to meet Coshocton (19-3) in the New Concord finals by turning back Martins Ferry, 44 to 40. It was New Philly's 15th win against five setbacks.

CANTON SOUTH WINS

Stark county's lone remaining team in the Class A play, Canton South, advanced to one of two semi-finals at Youngstown by turning back Youngstown East, 39 to 36. The Canton five will next meet Salem, 34-32 upset winners over Lisbon.

Two Perry county Class A powerhouses — New Lexington and Junction City—won their way to the Athens B finals with easy wins. New Lex now has won 23 and Junction City 27. Both have lost only once.

Delphos St. John revenged one of its three defeats of the year in a 44-35 victory over Lima St. Rose at Celina, and at Xenia, Dixie and New Vienna advanced to semi-final play.

Freddies, Mt. Gilead Both Are Eliminated

WESTERVILLE—The Mansfield area's last Class B teams fell from contention here yesterday as Fredericktown was upset by London, 40-38, and Mt. Gilead bowed to Marysville, 60-33.

The Fredericktown game, played in the afternoon, was one of the most thrilling imaginable as it stretched into a second overtime period before a decision was reached.

Fredericktown got off on the wrong foot, trailing 14-6 at the quarter but pulled up close at the half 19-17. The three-quarter mark still found the Freddies trailing 29-26 but they took command as the last quarter opened.

TRIED STALLING

Fredericktown led 34-31 with four minutes remaining but lost the game when it elected to stall. It turned down three straight free throws to take the ball out of bounds but London finally broke through to sink a basket and a foul to tie the game.

Jim Eweres of the Freddies and Dave Stanley of London traded baskets in the last minute and Freddies guard, Pete Moore, missed a chance to be a hero when he was fouled as the gun went off but missed his free throw.

London got off on the right foot in the overtime with a goal but Jim Ruggles dropped a pair of free throws for the Freddies to tie the score with seven seconds remaining However, after 22 seconds of the second overtime London freshman Bob Miller broke loose for the lay-up.

Mt. Gilead trailed all the way in losing to Marysville.

Worthington and Plain City meet at 8 p. m. Friday in upper bracket finals of the tournament while Marysville and London clash at 8 Saturday night in the lower bracket.

Bob Kennedy Paces Tribe Exhibition

TUCSON, ARIZ. — (INS) — "Rifle-arm" Bob Kennedy ranked today as a top candidate for the right field post on the world champion Cleveland Indians.

Kennedy, known for his fielding ability rather than his skill with the willow, submitted a strong bid for the position yesterday in the tribe's first intra-squad game at their Tucson, Ariz., training camp. The game ended in a 5-5 tie.

The husky outfielder's strong arm accounted for three assists, including two on throws to the plate. He collected three hits, two 400-foot doubles and a single, in five times at bat.

Orestes Minoso, 24-year-old cuban third baseman, also starred in the contest between Mel Harder's pals and George Susce's pets. Minoso handled seven difficult chances without a flaw in the field and collected three singles, including a perfect bunt down the third base line, in five trips to the plate.

Freddie March, the young shortstop from Oklahoma City, drew a fine hand from the crowd for his superb play in the field, handling seven assists and a putout without a miscue.

Artie Wilson, negro shortstop, was the big gun in the pets' attack. He drove a triple down the third base line with the sacks loaded, scoring three runs.
